MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

Adopted: February 11, 2000

Released: February 14, 2000

By the Chief, Auctions and Industry Analysis Division, Wireless Telecommunications Bureau:

I. BACKGROUND

1. We have before us Petitions to Deny filed by Carolina PCS I Limited Partnership (“Carolina PCS”) on November 19, 1999.¹ These Petitions to Deny were filed in response to Public Notices listing as accepted for filing the applications of (1) ChaseTel Licensee Corporation (“ChaseTel”) and Leap Wireless International Inc. (“Leap”) for assignment of eleven PCS C block licenses² from ChaseTel to Leap; (2) PCS Devco, Inc. (“Devco”) and Cricket Holdings Dayton, Inc. (“Cricket”) for assignment of a PCS F block license from Devco to Cricket; and (3) Leap and Devco for assignment of a PCS C block

¹ Carolina PCS I Limited Partnership Petition to Deny Application for Assignment of PCS Devco, Inc., filed November 19, 1999; Carolina PCS I Limited Partnership Petition to Deny Application for Assignment of ChaseTel Licensee Corp., filed November 19, 1999; Carolina PCS I Limited Partnership Petition to Deny Application for Assignment of Leap Wireless International, Inc., filed November 24, 1999.

license from Leap to Devco.³ For the reasons discussed below, we conditionally grant the ChaseTel and Devco assignment applications, and grant the Leap assignment application.

II. DISCUSSION

A. ChaseTel and Devco Applications for Assignment

2. Carolina PCS generally contends that Leap and Cricket, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Leap, are not qualified to hold PCS C and F block licenses under the Commission's rules. Specifically, Carolina PCS contends that its pending application for review challenging an earlier order of the Commercial Wireless Division ("CWD") of the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau ("Bureau"), which found Leap and Cricket eligible to hold PCS C and F block licenses with respect to other applications, prevents a finding here that Leap and Cricket are eligible for C and F block licenses.⁴

3. CWD found in the Leap MO&O that, subject to certain conditions, Leap and Cricket are eligible to hold C and F block licenses under the publicly traded corporation ("PTC") exception to the general requirement that a C or F block applicant have gross revenues for each of the past two years of less than $125 million and total assets of less than $500 million.⁵ Carolina PCS asserts that the conclusion reached in the Leap MO&O is unsupported and cannot establish Leap's and Cricket's eligibility here. Moreover, Carolina PCS argues that if we grant the assignment applications, we will effectively establish Leap's and Cricket's eligibility to hold C and F block licenses before the Commission decides the eligibility issue raised in Carolina PCS's application for review of the Leap MO&O.

4. We disagree. Carolina PCS has failed to persuade us not to follow the decision of CWD in the Leap MO&O regarding the eligibility of Leap and Cricket to hold C and F block licenses. We view that order to be dispositive of the issues raised here by Carolina PCS. There is nothing to prevent Carolina PCS from seeking review of our conclusion here as it has of the Leap MO&O. We therefore conditionally grant the applications of (1) ChaseTel and Leap for assignment of eleven PCS C block licenses from ChaseTel to Leap; and (2) Devco and Cricket for assignment of a PCS F block license from Devco to Cricket. We conditionally grant these applications subject to all conditions imposed by CWD in the Leap MO&O.

ChaseTel and Leap filed their application for assignment of eleven PCS C Block licenses on October 14, 1999. Devco and Cricket filed their application for assignment of a PCS F block license on October 14, 1999. Leap and Devco filed their application for assignment of a PCS C block license on October 15, 1999.

B. Leap Application for Assignment

5. With respect to this application, Carolina PCS contends that Leap's eligibility to hold the license it seeks to assign has not been established because Carolina PCS's application for review of the Leap MO&O is still pending.

6. We disagree. The mere pendency of an application for review does not make CWD's order ineffective. Any assignment is subject to the outcome of pending proceedings challenging the underlying eligibility of the assignor to hold the assigning license. Of course, subject to the Commission's rules, Carolina PCS is free to seek review of this decision as well. Accordingly, we grant the application of Leap and Devco for assignment of a PCS C block license from Leap to Devco.

III. ORDERING CLAUSES

7. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED, pursuant to sections 4(i) and 309(d)(2) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 154(i), 309(d)(2), and Section 0.331 of the Commission's rules, 47 C.F.R. § 0.331, the Carolina PCS I Limited Partnership Petition to Deny Application for Assignment of PCS Devco, Inc., filed November 19, 1999; the Carolina PCS I Limited Partnership Petition to Deny Application for Assignment of ChaseTel Licensee Corp., filed November 19, 1999; and the Carolina PCS I Limited Partnership Petition to Deny Application for Assignment of Leap, filed November 24, 1999, ARE HEREBY DENIED.

Unless the licenses that ChaseTel, Devco and Leap will have been paid in full, this approval is conditioned upon Leap's, Devco's and Cricket's execution of the applicable financing statements (i.e., the UCC-1 Forms) and payment, on or before the consummation date, of all costs associated with the preparation and recordation of the financing statements. In addition, all installment payments must be current on the consummation date. To be current, the installment payment may not be in the non-delinquency period or grace period.
