The topic of the August 1, 2001, demonstration will be:

All wireless services now have been deployed to ULS. The ULS database contains two million licenses; the system processes several hundred thousand applications per year. The system also makes available on the Web a wide variety of information about wireless licenses and applications. Enhancements are being added and some displays and features are being redesigned as time goes on; future trainings will cover aspects of these upgrades.

If you are interested in attending, please contact Mike Etheredge at (202) 418-0584, or e-mail Methered@fcc.gov. Please specify your name, sessions you want to attend, and organization, and also provide a telephone number and an e-mail address. You may indicate what radio services interest you most. Seats are limited and registrations will be assigned on a first-come, first-serve basis. In the past, registrations have filled up very quickly. If you do register and then cannot come, please notify us so we can assign your seat to someone else. Thank you for your interest in ULS; your comments and questions are always welcome.
