Alaska Power & Telephone Company, Inc.,
Files Request for Waiver of Sections 15.319 and 15.321

On August 16, 2001, Alaska Power & Telephone Company, Inc., (AP&T) requested a waiver of Sections 15.319 and 15.321 of the Commission's rules to allow AP&T to operate isochronous (voice) devices in the unlicensed PCS (1910-1920 MHz) band thereby allowing it to provide fixed and mobile wireless telephone service in rural Alaska.

Unlicensed PCS operation is permitted in the 1910-1930 MHz band under Part 15 of the Commission's regulations. Operation in the 1910-1920 MHz band is limited to use by asynchronous devices, and operation in the 1920-1930 MHz band is limited to isochronous devices. Asynchronous devices transmit at irregular intervals, as is typical of packet data applications, while isochronous devices typically have a fixed frame structure and transmit regular, periodic signals, such as time-division voice systems. AP&T requests a waiver of this spectrum etiquette in order to provide voice transmissions in the band reserved for high speed data transmissions.

AP&T contends that a grant of the requested waiver would result in the timely provision of fixed and mobile wireless voice services and moderate-speed Internet service to unserved and underserved communities in rural Alaska.

The Office of Engineering and Technology is reviewing the request to determine whether a waiver of the rules should be granted and seeks comments from interested parties concerning this matter.

Interested parties may file comments or oppositions to this waiver request on or before November 5, 2001. Parties interested in submitting reply comments must do so on or before November 20, 2001. All comments should reference the subject Waiver Request by Alaska Power & Telephone Company, Inc., DA 01-2308, and should be filed with the Office of the Secretary, Federal Communications Commission, 445 Twelfth Street, SW, Room TW-A325, Washington, D.C. 20554.
