FEDERAL-STATE JOINT BOARD ON JURISDICTIONAL SEPARATIONS TO HOLD EN BANC HEARING ON COMPREHENSIVE SEPARATIONS REFORM

CC DOCKET NO. 80-286

The Federal-State Joint Board on Jurisdictional Separations (Joint Board) will hold an en banc hearing on Wednesday, February 13, 2002, from 10:30 AM to 12:00 noon in the Commission Meeting Room. The Joint Board will hear presentations from selected speakers regarding the options for comprehensive separations reform that were proposed in the "glide path" paper filed by the State Members of the Joint Board on December 18, 2001.<sup>1</sup> Speakers representing a range of interests will present their views on the various options for separations reform, and questions from the Joint Board will follow.

In May, 2001 the Commission adopted a five-year freeze of the Part 36 category relationships and jurisdictional allocation factors, to be in effect from July 1, 2001, until June 30, 2006, or until the Commission completes comprehensive separations reform, whichever comes first.<sup>2</sup> The glide path paper filed by the State Members of the Joint Board proposes seven options for a transition path from the current frozen Part 36 regime to a mechanism that reflects a telecommunications environment that has witnessed major technological, economic, and legal changes. Comments were filed on the glide path paper on January 22, 2002, and reply comments will be filed on March 8, 2002.<sup>3</sup> This en banc hearing will allow the Joint Board to begin considering the options for comprehensive separations reform.
