MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

Adopted: June 2, 2005

Released: June 3, 2005

By the Deputy Chief, Policy Division, Media Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we address a petition for exemption from Section 79.1 of the Commission’s rules,<sup>1</sup> implementing Section 713 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the “Act”),<sup>2</sup> filed by the video program Adventure Bound Outdoors (“Adventure”) aired on The Outdoor Channel, FamilyNet, and approximately 12 local television stations in the Durango, Colorado area. For the reasons discussed below, Adventure’s petition is denied, to the extent stated herein.

2. In Implementation of Section 305 of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 – Video Programming Accessibility, the Commission established rules and implementation schedules for the closed captioning of video programming.<sup>3</sup> In enacting Section 713, Congress recognized that, in certain limited situations, the costs of captioning might impose an undue burden on video programming providers or owners, and it authorized the Commission to adopt appropriate exemptions.<sup>4</sup> Congress defined “undue burden” to mean “significant difficulty or expense.”<sup>5</sup> When determining if the closed captioning requirements will impose an undue burden, the statute requires the Commission to consider the following factors: (1) the nature and cost of the closed captions for the programming; (2) the impact on the operation of the provider or program owner; (3) the financial resources of the provider or program owner; and (4) the type of operations of the provider or program owner.<sup>6</sup> A petition for exemption must be supported by sufficient evidence to demonstrate that compliance with the requirements to close caption video programming would cause an undue burden.<sup>7</sup> Petitioners also are instructed to submit any other information they deem appropriate and relevant to the Commission's final determination.<sup>8</sup>

II. DISCUSSION

3. In its Petition, Adventure indicated that it did not have the financial resources to absorb the cost of closed captioning and that, "the cost of closed captioning will push the show far into a financial hole."<sup>9</sup> Section 79.1(f)(11) provides that during the pendency of an undue burden determination, video programming subject to the request for exemption is exempt from the closed captioning requirements.<sup>10</sup> Adventure has been exempt from the captioning requirements since the filing of its petition in 2001. Ideally, this period of exemption should have allowed Adventure the opportunity to identify additional sources of financial sponsorship, identify affordable captioning providers, and develop a solid infrastructure for its programming. We emphasize that this exemption was not designed to perpetually relieve a petitioner of its captioning obligation. Adventure has been given more than a sufficient amount of time to benefit from its exemption from the closed captioning requirements. Therefore, Adventure is expected to complete the process of making closed captioning available to viewers with hearing disabilities.

4. Our decision herein is without prejudice to Adventure bringing a future petition for exemption that adequately documents that compliance with our rules continues to impose an undue burden. Implicit in the Section 79.1(f) requirement of a showing as to the financial resources of a petitioner, such as Adventure, is the question of the extent to which the distributors of its programming can be called upon to contribute towards the captioning expense. Thus, any subsequent petition should document whether Adventure solicited captioning assistance from the distributors of its programming and the response to these solicitations. Absent such a petition, Petitioner is given 3 months from the release date of this Order to come into complete compliance with the rules.

5. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that the petition for exemption from the closed captioning requirements of Section 79.1 of the Commission's rules IS DENIED to the extent indicated herein. Petitioner must comply with the captioning requirements within 3 months from the release date of this Order.

6. This action is taken under delegated authority pursuant to Section 0.283 of the Commission's rules.<sup>11</sup>
