DOMESTIC SECTION 214 APPLICATION FILED FOR THE TRANSFER OF CONTROL OF COMMONWEALTH TELEPHONE ENTERPRISES, INC. TO CITIZENS COMMUNICATIONS COMPANY

NON-STREAMLINED PLEADING CYCLE ESTABLISHED

WC Docket No. 06-184

Comments Due: November 10, 2006
Reply Comments Due: November 17, 2006

On September 29, 2006, Commonwealth Telephone Enterprises, Inc. ("Commonwealth") and Citizens Communications Company ("Citizens") (collectively, the "Applicants") filed an application, pursuant to section 63.04 of the Commission's rules,<sup>1</sup> requesting authority to transfer control of Commonwealth<sup>2</sup> to Citizens.<sup>3</sup>

The Applicants did not request presumptive streamlined treatment for this application pursuant to section 63.03 of the Commission's rules, because, in the state of Pennsylvania, Citizens and its subsidiaries have incumbent LEC service areas that are adjacent to incumbent LEC service areas of one or more Commonwealth subsidiaries.<sup>4</sup> Applicants nevertheless request streamlined treatment on a case-by-case approach because immediately following the transaction: (1) Citizens and its subsidiaries, including Strenkowski, Bingham McCutchen LLP, to Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary, Federal Communications Commission, WC Docket No. 06-184 (filed October 16, 2006) ("Oct. 16 Amendment").

The Applicants are also filing applications for transfer of control associated with authorization for international and wireless services. Any action on this domestic 214 application is without prejudice to Commission action on other related, pending applications

<sup>3</sup> Blanket domestic 214 authority is held by Citizens, Citizens' incumbent local exchange carrier ("LEC") subsidiaries, and Citizens' subsidiaries Frontier Communications of America, Inc. ("Frontier") and Frontier Communications of Rochester, Inc., which operate as competitive LECs. See Oct. 16 Amendment at 2-3.

Commonwealth, will hold less than a ten percent (10%) share of the interstate, interexchange market; and (2) to the extent Applicants' affiliates (as defined in Section 3(1) of the Communications Act – "Affiliates") are incumbent LECs in other markets, these affiliates have in combination fewer than two (2) percent of the nation's subscriber lines installed in the aggregate nationwide. Because the Applicants have adjacent service areas, this application is not subject to streamlined treatment.

Commonwealth, a Pennsylvania corporation, is a publicly held telecommunications holding company. Through its operating subsidiary, Commonwealth Telephone Company ("CT"), Commonwealth provides telephony and related services in Pennsylvania markets as a rural incumbent LEC. CT, founded in 1897, operates in a rural, approximately 5,000-square-mile territory with a population of approximately 450,000 people, and a line density of approximately 65 access lines per square mile. Approximately three quarters of CT's switched access lines serve residential customers. CT is the nation's 8th largest non-Bell incumbent LEC, serving over 323,500 switched access lines as of December 31, 2005. Commonwealth's subsidiary, CTSI, LLC, ("CTSI") currently provides a full array of competitive voice and data telecommunications services mainly to business customers.<sup>5</sup> CTSI holds authority in Pennsylvania to provide competitive local exchange services as a competitive LEC, and provides competitive services in three regional Pennsylvania markets that border CT's markets.<sup>6</sup> CTSI served over 137,600 competitive switched access lines as of December 31, 2005. The following entity owns a 10% or greater direct interest in Commonwealth: American Century Investment Management, Inc. (12%) ("ACIM"), a Delaware company. ACIM is, in turn, wholly-owned by American Century Companies, Inc. ("ACC"), a Delaware corporation. The following entities own a 10% or greater equity interest in ACC:<sup>7</sup> JPMAC Holdings, Inc. (43.21%), a Delaware corporation and Stowers Institute for Resource Development, Inc. (42.52%) ("Institute"), a Missouri non-profit medical research foundation.<sup>8</sup> JPMAC Holdings, Inc. is wholly-owned by J.P. Morgan Chase & Co., a Delaware widely held publicly traded company with no individual shareholder having a 10% or greater interest. The Institute is managed by the following Board of Directors, all U.S. citizens: James E. Stowers III, Richard W. Brown, Robert Peterson, and Allan J. Huber.

Citizens, a Delaware corporation, is a holding company for various operating companies. Citizens provides services to rural areas and small and medium-sized towns and cities as an incumbent LEC under the "Frontier" name.<sup>9</sup> Citizens is the nation's 7th largest incumbent LEC serving <sup>5</sup> Commonwealth also owns and operates other telecommunications-related support businesses that all operate in deregulated segments of the telecommunications industry and that support the operations of CT and CTSI, including epix Internet Services, and Commonwealth Communications ("CC"), a provider of telecommunications equipment and facilities management services.

<sup>8</sup> The Institute has no shareholders and no person holds a 10% or greater equity interest in the Institute.

<sup>9</sup> Citizens was incorporated in 1935 as Citizens Utilities Company. On May 18, 2000, the shareholders approved a proposal to change the company's name to "Citizens Communications Company."

approximately 2,145,000 telephone access lines. Citizens operates as an incumbent LEC in 24 states<sup>10</sup> and is authorized to provide services in 49 states through its long distance and competitive local subsidiary, Frontier. Citizens directly owns Frontier and Frontier Communications of Rochester, Inc, which operate as competitive LECs and provide interexchange services.<sup>11</sup> Frontier is typically the dominant incumbent carrier in the markets it serves and provides the “last mile” of telecommunications services to residential customers and, to a lesser extent, non-residential customers. Citizens is also in the beginning stages of offering wireless and Voice over Internet Protocol services in certain markets. Citizens is a widely held publicly traded company with no individual shareholder having a 10% or greater interest in Citizen.<sup>12</sup>

The Applicants have entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (“Agreement”) dated as of September 17, 2006. Pursuant to the Agreement, in accordance with Pennsylvania and Delaware corporation laws, a newly formed wholly owned subsidiary of Citizens, CF Merger Corp. (“CFMC”) will be merged into Commonwealth, whereupon the separate existence of CFMC will cease and Commonwealth will be the surviving corporation. Citizens will purchase the outstanding common stock of Commonwealth for approximately $1.16 billion, assuming Commonwealth’s existing convertible debt converts to common shares. No person or entity is expected to have a 10% or greater direct interest in Citizens after the closing of the proposed transaction. Through the purchase of the common shares of Commonwealth, control will be transferred to Citizens.

The Applicants state that the proposed transaction will serve the public interest because the proposed transaction will provide the Applicants with access to each other’s advanced network capabilities, technical and financial strengths and complementary services, which together are expected to strengthen the Applicants’ ability to expand their offerings and provide more advanced telecommunications services to a broader customer base.
