Application for New NCE FM Station

Dear Applicant:

We have before us a Petition for Reconsideration (the "Petition") filed on November 28, 2007, by Educational Media Foundation ("EMF"). The Petition seeks reconsideration of the October 24, 2007, dismissal of the above-captioned application for a new noncommercial educational ("NCE") FM radio station in College, Alaska. For the reasons discussed below, we deny the Petition.

Background. On February 10, 2000, EMF filed an application seeking authority to construct and operate a new NCE FM station in College, Alaska (the "Application"). The Application was paper-filed under the Commission's prior licensing procedures but was not cut-off prior to the April 2000, Commission-imposed NCE comparative licensing freeze.<sup>1</sup> Accordingly, the Application remained pending during the NCE filing freeze. In October 2007, the Media Bureau (the "Bureau") opened a filing window for new station and major modification NCE FM construction permits and mandated that applicants with pending proposals electronically amend their applications on FCC Form 340 to include comparative information.<sup>2</sup> In the NCE Window Public Notice, the Bureau explicitly cautioned applicants that "the failure to electronically amend and fully complete a pending application during the October window will result in its dismissal with prejudice.”<sup>3</sup> EMF failed to amend its Application by the close of the NCE filing window.<sup>4</sup> Accordingly, the Bureau staff, by Public Notice, dismissed the Application.<sup>5</sup> In its Petition, EMF urges the Bureau to reconsider the dismissal, accept its late paper-filed amendment to the Application, and reinstate its Application nunc pro tunc. EMF concedes that it failed to timely submit an amendment, but argues that its “inability to timely file the FCC application electronically was due to a failure of the FCC’s electronic filing system to accept an application.”<sup>6</sup> Specifically, EMF explains that its attempts to submit the Application a “full half-hour before the end of the filing window” were not accepted by the FCC’s electronic filing system and that it remedied the problem by filing an amendment to its Application on paper one day after the established deadline.<sup>7</sup> Accordingly, EMF asserts that the Application cannot be dismissed.

<sup>2</sup> See Media Bureau Announces NCE FM New Station and Major Change Filing Procedures for October 12-October 19, 2007 Window; Limited Applications Filing Freeze to Commence on September 8, 2007, Public Notice, 22 FCC Rcd 15050 (2007) ("NCE Window Public Notice"). Applicants were directed to electronically amend their pending applications by completing Sections III (Fair Distribution of Service), IV (Point System Factors), V (Tie Breakers), and VI (Certification) of FCC Form 340.

Discussion. Reconsideration is appropriate only where the petitioner either demonstrates a material error or omission in the underlying order or raises additional facts not known or not existing until after the petitioner’s last opportunity to present such matters.<sup>8</sup> EMF fails to make such a showing.

EMF fails to provide any compelling explanation for its neglect to timely amend its Application. Its attempt to place the entire blame on the FCC’s electronic filing system for its failure to amend by the established deadline is unavailing. In the NCE Window Public Notice, as well as a prior April 2007, Public Notice announcing the NCE filing window, the Bureau unambiguously warned applicants several times that pending non-cut-off applications, such as EMF’s Application, would be dismissed for failure to timely amend and that amendments must be submitted electronically.<sup>9</sup> Moreover, the Bureau specifically

<sup>9</sup> The NCE Window Public Notice explicitly stated, in bold-faced type, that: “The failure to electronically amend and fully complete a pending application during the October window will result in its dismissal with prejudice.” NCE Window Public Notice, 22 FCC Rcd at 15051 (emphasis in original). In the same Public Notice, applicants were again cautioned that “All FCC Form 340 applications and amendments must be filed electronically... [p]aper-filed not cut-off FCC Form 340 submissions filed prior to April 22, 2000, for which no amendment to FCC Form 340 is submitted during the window will be dismissed,” and, once again, warned that “[t]he Commission staff will return applications and amendments not submitted in accordance with the procedures described in this Public Notice.” Id. at 15053-54 (emphasis in original). The Bureau’s earlier April 2007, Public Notice also explained that: “[t]he Bureau will dismiss any pending non-cut-off NCE new station or major change application that is not amended by the close of the window to include the required information.” See Media Bureau Announces NCE FM New Station and Major Modification Application Filing Window for New and Certain Pending Proposals; Window to Open on October 12, 2007, Public Notice, 22 FCC Rcd 6726 (2007).

cautioned applicants to file early to ensure proper submission<sup>10</sup> and afforded applicants considerable time to prepare and submit their applications. Specifically, the Bureau announced the October filing window six months in advance, and applicants were free to initiate and complete applications during this six-month period. The filing window was to remain open for seven days, 24 hours per day, from October 12, 2007, through 11:59 p.m., October 19, 2007. Although the electronic filing system became temporarily unavailable for a period of six and one-half hours on October 19, the Bureau promptly extended the filing window until October 22, 2007, at 2 p.m., i.e., for a period substantially longer than the outage itself, to avoid any hardship.<sup>11</sup>

Despite the caution to file early, sufficient opportunity to plan ahead to meet the deadline, and ample filing opportunities, EMF waited until the “eleventh hour” and did not attempt to submit its amendment until the final half-hour of the extended 10-day filing window. Applicants that wait until the last minute before submitting their applications risk untimely filing.<sup>12</sup> EMF fails to show good cause why it could not have submitted its amendment earlier but rather attempts to lay blame on the FCC’s electronic filing system.<sup>13</sup> EMF, however, is ultimately responsible for taking precautions to ensure its application is complete and timely submitted, and EMF must bear the consequences of its actions.<sup>14</sup> Accordingly, we find no error in the Bureau’s dismissal of the Application for failure to meet a clearly articulated deadline.<sup>15</sup>

Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED, That the Petition for Reconsideration, filed by Educational Media Foundation IS DENIED.

Sincerely,

Peter H. Doyle
Chief, Audio Division
Media Bureau
