I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Order, we extend our June 15, 2009 Tonga Stop Payment Order on the U.S.-Tonga route to all U.S. carrier payments for termination services to Digicel Tonga Limited (Digicel).¹ In doing so, we find that Digicel has raised its termination rates to the same level and during the same timeframe as Tonga Communications Corporation (TCC), thereby preventing competitive bypass of unreasonably high rates mandated by the Tonga government.² Accordingly, we extend the stop payment order to U.S. carriers exchanging traffic to Tonga with Digicel and order all U.S. carriers with Commission authorizations permitting the provision of facilities-based international switched voice services on the U.S.-Tonga route to suspend immediately all payments for termination services to Digicel. In addition, we seek further comment on whether we should take additional action to reduce the unreasonably high termination rates on the U.S.-Tonga route. Specifically, we seek comment on AT&T's proposal that we should undertake enforcement of the Commission benchmark rate of $0.19 for all U.S.-Tonga traffic sent on both direct and indirect routes to Tonga.

II. BACKGROUND

2. In our initial Tonga Stop Payment Order,³ we found that actions taken by TCC to disrupt the U.S.-international networks of AT&T Inc. (AT&T) and Verizon Communications, Inc. (Verizon), for the purpose of trying to force those carriers to agree to higher termination rates, were anticompetitive and required action to protect U.S. consumers in accordance with Commission policy and precedent. Specifically, we found that TCC's actions in demanding a substantial rate increase amounting to a rate floor without engaging in meaningful negotiations and then threatening and carrying out threats to disrupt the AT&T and Verizon networks for their failure to accede to those increases was anticompetitive. We further found that TCC had not presented persuasive arguments as to why its actions should not be considered anticompetitive under Commission policy and precedent and thus had not overcome the rebuttable presumption that its actions harm the U.S. public interest. We noted that while TCC's actions may have been required by action of the Tonga Communications Minister mandating the rate increase, they do not have any less anticompetitive effect on U.S. carriers or consumers.⁴ And, notwithstanding action by the Tonga Communications Minister, we found that the Commission has the authority to issue a stop-payment order to U.S. carriers to protect U.S. consumers from anticompetitive behavior pending restoration of circuits and resumption of commercial negotiations between TCC and AT&T and Verizon.⁵ To date, AT&T's and Verizon's circuits remain down.⁶

3. In the Tonga Stop Payment Order, we requested further comment on whether we should extend the stop payment order to any U.S. carrier with direct arrangements with Digicel for international termination services in Tonga. Digicel is the other carrier licensed in Tonga to provide telecommunications services.⁷ AT&T filed comments supporting extension of the stop payment order to U.S. carrier payments to Digicel and also proposing enforcement of the Commission benchmark policy on the U.S.-Tonga route.⁸ On July 23, 2009, Verizon and TCC filed reply comments.⁹ Verizon supported extension of the stop payment order to U.S. carrier payments to Digicel. In its reply, TCC argued that the Bureau erred in issuing the Tonga Stop Payment Order and that the order should not be further extended by adopting AT&T's benchmark enforcement proposal.

III. DISCUSSION

A. Application to Digicel Tonga Limited

4. In our Tonga Stop Payment Order, we noted that the Tonga Communications Minister's order for the increased rate applies to both TCC and Digicel.¹⁰ We further noted that some U.S. carriers with direct operating arrangements with Digicel apparently are paying the $0.30 rate to Digicel.¹¹ We therefore sought comment on whether we should extend our stop payment order to U.S. carriers with direct arrangements with Digicel for termination of traffic on the U.S.-Tonga route.

5. The Commission has the authority to extend the Tonga Stop Payment Order to U.S. carrier payments to Digicel. As AT&T notes, the Commission previously has "affirmed that its 'policies regarding foreign market power apply' where 'multiple carriers in a foreign market . . . act pursuant to anticompetitive government mandates,' even though those carriers may otherwise lack market power."¹² Digicel did not file comments with the Commission and there is nothing in the record to suggest that the $0.30 rate increase reflects Digicel's costs. And, as noted in our Tonga Stop Payment Order, the U.S. Trade Representative's (USTR's) Section 1377 review found that, "[b]y imposing a uniform termination rate of 30 cents, the Tongan government eliminated the price competition that had previously existed between TCC and Digicel. It raised the termination rate both well above the FCC's benchmark and far in excess of the rate that had prevailed in a competitive market, which provided a more accurate reflection of the costs of providing service."¹³ We agree with AT&T that, as a result, Digicel no longer sets inbound termination rates independently, and reinforces TCC's control of the foreign end of the U.S.-Tonga market by preventing "bypass of the unreasonably high rate imposed" by TCC.¹⁴ In addition, Verizon points out that it "competes with other U.S. carriers who terminate traffic to Digicel," and "these carriers are thereby benefitting unfairly from Digicel's exclusion from the Commission's order."¹⁵

6. We find that extension of the stop payment order to U.S. carriers having direct operating arrangements with Digicel is necessary here to promote a unified U.S. bargaining position that will enable

¹¹ Id. See also Id. at 8009, ¶ 9, n.29. The Bureau sent information requests to carriers that, according to the most recent information filed with the Commission, serve the U.S.-Tonga route other than the petitioner, AT&T. Those carriers were: MCI International, Sprint Nextel Corporation, Bharti Airtel Limited, France Telecom Long Distance USA, LLC, IDT Corporation, IT&E Overseas, Inc., KDDI America, Inc., KPN International Network Services, Inc., New Century InfoComm Tech Co. Ltd., Primus Telecommunications, Inc., REACH Services (USA) Inc., Telecom New Zealand, USA, Inc., and TeliaSonera AB. The information request asked for information concerning: whether the carrier provides facilities-based service on the route; whether the carrier had direct circuits to Tonga; whether any direct circuits on the route were disrupted; and whether the carrier provided service on the route through alternative operating arrangements.

See also Philippines Order, 18 FCC Rcd 3519 at ¶ 12 (finding that five Philippine carriers engaged in concerted action to whipsaw U.S. carriers into the same rate increase); Philippines Order on Review, 19 FCC Rcd 9993. Most of the carriers responded that they provide service to Tonga on an indirect basis while some said that they provide service on a direct basis through an operating agreement.

resolution of this matter and also to discourage other situations in which foreign carriers impose unreasonably high termination rates under threat of circuit disruption.¹⁶ In this order, we require all facilities-based carriers subject to Commission jurisdiction having an operating agreement with Digicel for direct termination of U.S. traffic on the U.S.-Tonga route to suspend all payments to Digicel for switched voice traffic. This suspension shall remain in effect pending full restoration of AT&T and Verizon's circuits or otherwise ordered by the Commission.

7. Finally, we reject TCC's argument that the rate increase is not anticompetitive due to the fact that it was required by mandate of the Tonga Communications Minister. We previously fully addressed TCC's arguments to this regard in the Tonga Stop Payment Order.¹⁷

B. Enforcement of the Benchmark Rate on the U.S.-Tonga Route

8. In our Tonga Stop Payment Order, we noted that there are U.S. carriers that have alternative arrangements with third parties (i.e., not TCC or Digicel) to provide service on the U.S.-Tonga route. Such arrangements involve re-originating U.S. traffic to Tonga through a third country. In responding to the request for comments in the Tonga Stop Payment Order, AT&T proposes that the Commission enforce the $0.19 benchmark rate for all traffic on the U.S.-Tonga route. Specifically, AT&T requests that the Commission "take additional measures to require the reduction of rates to more reasonable levels on this route by issuing an order, effective immediately, requiring U.S. carriers to pay no more than the $0.19 benchmark rate for all U.S.-Tonga traffic."¹⁸ AT&T's proposal would include third country re-origination traffic. TCC argues against enforcing benchmarks on the route.¹⁹

9. We stated in our Tonga Stop Payment Order that this type of remedy may be considered in a separate proceeding if AT&T and Verizon circuits remain disrupted. In light of the fact that AT&T's and Verizon's circuits remain down,²⁰ we request comment on AT&T's proposal, taking into account the reply comments received from TCC.²¹ We specifically request comment on enforcing the $0.19 benchmark rate on third party re-origination traffic as well as traffic exchanged pursuant to an operating agreement. We also seek comment on the appropriate proceeding to consider this issue further should the Commission decide to do so.²²

C. Conclusion

10. We order all U.S. carriers to suspend immediately all U.S. carrier payments for termination services to Digicel as specified above. The suspension shall remain in effect pending full restoration of AT&T's and Verizon's circuits and services, and in accordance with the Commission determinations following this Order. Furthermore, we seek comment on AT&T's proposal that we enforce the benchmark rate on all U.S.-Tonga traffic.
