OMNIBUS NOTICE OF APPARENT LIABILITY FOR FORFEITURE

Adopted: February 24, 2009

Released: February 24, 2009

By the Chief, Enforcement Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Omnibus Notice of Apparent Liability For Forfeiture ("NAL"), we find that the companies listed in Appendix I of this Order ("the Companies"), by failing to submit an annual customer proprietary network information ("CPNI") compliance certificate, have apparently willfully or repeatedly violated section 222 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the "Act"), section 64.2009(e) of the Commission's rules and the Commission's EPIC CPNI Order. Protection of CPNI is a fundamental obligation of all telecommunications carriers as provided by section 222 of the Act. Based upon our review of the facts and circumstances surrounding these apparent violations, we find that the Companies are each apparently liable for a monetary forfeiture in the amount of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000). The Companies will have the opportunity to submit further evidence and arguments in response to this NAL to show that no forfeiture should be imposed or that some lesser amount should be assessed.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Section 222 imposes the general duty on all telecommunications carriers to protect the confidentiality of their subscribers' proprietary information. The Commission has issued rules

1 47 U.S.C. § 222.

2 47 C.F.R. § 64.2009(e).

3 Implementation of the Telecommunications Act of 1996: Telecommunications Carriers' Use of Customer Proprietary Network Information and Other Customer Information; IP-Enabled Services, CC Docket No. 96-115; WC Docket No. 04-36, Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 22 FCC Rcd 6927, 6953 (2007) ("EPIC CPNI Order"), aff'd sub nom. Nat'l Cable & Telecom Assoc. v. FCC, No. 07-132 (D.C.Cir. decided Feb. 13, 2009).

4 47 U.S.C. § 503(b)(4)(C); 47 C.F.R. § 1.80(f)(3).

5 Section 222 of the Communications Act, 47 U.S.C § 222, provides that: "Every telecommunications carrier has a duty to protect the confidentiality of proprietary information of, and relating to, other telecommunications carriers, (continued....)

implementing section 222 of the Act.<sup>6</sup> The Commission required carriers to establish and maintain a system designed to ensure that carriers adequately protected their subscribers' CPNI. Section 64.2009(e) is one such requirement.

3. In 2006, some companies, known as "data brokers," advertised the availability of records of wireless subscribers' incoming and outgoing telephone calls for a fee.<sup>7</sup> Data brokers also advertised the availability of certain landline toll calls.<sup>8</sup> On April 2, 2007, the Commission strengthened its privacy rules with the release of the EPIC CPNI Order,<sup>9</sup> which adopted additional safeguards to protect CPNI against unauthorized access and disclosure. The EPIC CPNI Order was directly responsive to the actions of databrokers, or pretexters, to obtain unauthorized access to CPNI.<sup>10</sup> The EPIC CPNI Order requires that all companies subject to the CPNI rules file annually, on or before March 1, a certification with the Commission pursuant to amended rule 47 C.F.R. § 64.2009(e).<sup>11</sup> Additionally, companies must now equipment manufacturers, and customers, including telecommunication carriers reselling telecommunications services provided by a telecommunications carrier." Prior to the 1996 Act, the Commission had established CPNI requirements applicable to the enhanced services operations of AT&T, the Bell Operating Companies ("BOCs"), and GTE, and the customer premises equipment ("CPE") operations of AT&T and the BOCs, in the Computer II, Computer III, GTE Open Network Architecture ("ONA"), and BOC CPE Relief proceedings. See Implementation of the Telecommunications Act of 1996: Telecommunications Carriers' Use of Customer Proprietary Network Information and Other Customer Information and Implementation of Non-Accounting Safeguards of Sections 271 and 272 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, CC Docket Nos. 96-115 and 96-149, Second Report and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 13 FCC Rcd 8061, 8068-70, para. 7 (1998) ("CPNI Order") (describing the Commission's privacy protections for confidential customer information in place prior to the 1996 Act).

<sup>9</sup> EPIC CPNI Order, 22 FCC Rcd 6927. Specifically, pursuant to section 64.2009(e): A telecommunications carrier must have an officer, as an agent of the carrier, sign and file with the Commission a compliance certificate on an annual basis. The officer must state in the certification that he or she has personal knowledge that the company has established operating procedures that are adequate to ensure compliance with the rules in this subpart. The carrier must provide a statement accompanying the certification explaining how its operating procedures ensure that it is or is not in compliance with the rules in this subpart. In addition, the carrier must include an explanation of any actions taken against data brokers and a summary of all customer complaints received in the past year concerning the unauthorized release of CPNI. This filing must be made annually with the Enforcement Bureau on or before March 1 in EB Docket No. 06-36, for data pertaining to the previous calendar year. 47 C.F.R. § 64.2009(e).

provide, with their certification, “an explanation of any actions taken against data brokers and a summary of all customer complaints received in the past year concerning the unauthorized release of CPNI.”<sup>12</sup>

III. DISCUSSION

4. The Companies failed to comply with the annual certification filing requirement and did not file compliance certifications on or before March 1, 2008, for the 2007 calendar year. The Bureau sent Letters of Inquiry (“LOIs”) to the Companies asking them to provide copies and evidence of their annual CPNI certification filings.<sup>13</sup> Each of the Companies failed to submit satisfactory evidence of their timely filing of their annual CPNI certifications. The Bureau has determined that as a result of the Companies’ failures to file annual CPNI certifications, the Companies are in apparent violation of section 222 of the Act, section 64.2009(e) of the Commission’s rules, and the Commission’s EPIC CPNI Order. For these apparent violations, we propose a forfeiture in the amount of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) for each of the Companies.

IV. FORFEITURE AMOUNT

5. Section 503(b) of the Communications Act authorizes the Commission to assess a forfeiture of up to $130,000 for each violation of the Act or of any rule, regulation, or order issued by the Commission under the Act.<sup>14</sup> The Commission may assess this penalty if it determines that the carrier’s noncompliance is “willful or repeated.”<sup>15</sup> For a violation to be willful, it need not be intentional.<sup>16</sup> In exercising our forfeiture authority, we are required to take into account “the nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of the violation and, with respect to the violator, the degree of culpability, any history of prior offenses, ability to pay, and such other matters as justice may require.”<sup>17</sup> In addition, the Commission has established guidelines for forfeiture amounts and, where there is no specific base amount for a violation, retained discretion to set an amount on a case-by-case basis.<sup>18</sup>

<sup>14</sup> Section 503(b)(2)(B) provides for forfeitures against common carriers of up to $130,000 for each violation or each day of a continuing violation up to a maximum of $1,325,000 for each continuing violation. 47 U.S.C. § 503(b)(2)(B). See Amendment of Section 1.80 of the Commission’s Rules and Adjustment of Forfeiture Maxima to Reflect Inflation, 15 FCC Rcd 18221 (2000); Amendment of Section 1.80 of the Commission’s Rules and Adjustment of Forfeiture Maxima to Reflect Inflation, 19 FCC Rcd 10945 (2004) (increasing maximum forfeiture amounts to account for inflation).

<sup>15</sup> 47 U.S.C. § 503(b)(1)(B) (the Commission has authority under this section of the Act to assess a forfeiture penalty against a common carrier if the Commission determines that the carrier has “willfully or repeatedly” failed to comply with the provisions of the Act or with any rule, regulation, or order issued by the Commission under the Act); see also 47 U.S.C. § 503(b)(4)(A) (providing that the Commission must assess such penalties through the use of a written notice of apparent liability or notice of opportunity for hearing). Here, as described above, the Companies actions were willful as they apparently failed to file the annual CPNI compliance certifications as required.

<sup>17</sup> See 47 U.S.C. § 503(b)(2)(D); see also The Commission’s Forfeiture Policy Statement and Amendment of Section 1.80 of the Commission’s Rules, 12 FCC Rcd 17087 (1997) (“Forfeiture Policy Statement”); recon. denied, 15 FCC Rcd 303 (1999).

6. The Commission's forfeiture guidelines do not address the specific violation at issue in this proceeding. In determining the proper forfeiture amount in this case; however, we are guided by the principle that protection of subscribers' proprietary information is an important carrier obligation. Consumers are understandably concerned about the security of their sensitive, personal data that they must entrust to their various service providers, whether they are financial institutions or telephone companies. Given consumers' continued concern about the security of this data, and evidence that the data appears to be available to third parties, we must take aggressive, substantial steps to ensure that carriers implement necessary and adequate measures to protect their subscribers' CPNI, as required by the Commission's existing CPNI rules.

7. In prior actions in 2006, the Commission issued Notices of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture proposing forfeitures in the amount of $100,000 against carriers for violations of the Commission's CPNI rules.<sup>19</sup> Under the rules operative at that time, carriers were not required to file the annual certification with the Commission but instead were required to make the certificate available to the Commission upon request. The Commission's investigations demonstrated that some companies appeared to pay little heed to rules which placed a duty upon them to maintain certifications and make the representations therein that processes were in place to protect CPNI without the further scrutiny of the Commission. Accordingly, a substantial forfeiture was proposed.

8. As explained above, the Commission strengthened the CPNI rules in 2007, in part, as a response to earlier investigations, and imposed, among other things, the requirement that carriers submit the annual certifications to the Commission rather than rely solely on non-filed carrier certifications and representations of compliance with the rules, without further scrutiny. We have conducted an extensive review of the certifications filed with the Commission to satisfy the March 1, 2008, filing deadline, as well as examined failures to satisfy the filing requirement all together. Informed by this analysis and our earlier investigations, we revise our forfeiture approach and adopt a proposed forfeiture of $20,000 for the failure to comply with the with the annual CPNI certification filing requirement of section 64.2009(e). This revised proposed forfeiture is based on a number of factors. Specifically, we have considered compliance overall based on our review of the annual submissions; the expanded scope of the new rule to require additional types of information to be produced;<sup>20</sup> and, the amount of forfeiture necessary to have the intended deterrent effect. With respect to this latter factor, we note that the vast majority of the companies affected are smaller companies. Given this fact, and that this is the first year of the filing requirement, we believe that the goal of deterring future non-compliance will be met by issuing forfeitures consistent with the proposed amount. We take noncompliance with our CPNI rules very seriously. To the extent that we determine that the proposed forfeiture adopted herein does not have the intended deterrent effect, future noncompliance will face more severe penalties.<sup>21</sup>

9. The Companies herein have apparently failed to comply with section 222 of the Act, the EPIC CPNI Order, and the Commission's rules by failing to file with the Commission as required an annual CPNI certification. Based on all the facts and circumstances present in this case, we believe a proposed forfeiture of $20,000 for each of the Companies is warranted.<sup>22</sup>

<sup>19</sup> See, e.g., AT&T, Inc., Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture, 21 FCC Rcd 751 (Enf. Bur. 2006); Alltel Corp., Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture, 21 FCC Rcd 746 (Enf. Bur. 2006); Cbeyond Communications LLC, Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture, 21 FCC Rcd 4316 (Enf. Bur. 2006).

10. The Companies will have the opportunity to submit further evidence and arguments in response to this NAL to show that no forfeiture should be imposed or that some lesser amount should be assessed.<sup>23</sup> For example, any of the Companies may present evidence that it has compelling, financial arguments to reduce the proposed forfeiture or that it has maintained a history of overall compliance.<sup>24</sup> The Commission will fully consider any such arguments made by any of the Companies in its response to this NAL.

V. CONCLUSION AND ORDERING CLAUSES

11. We have determined that the Companies set forth in Appendix I of this Order, by failing to submit an annual compliance certificate, have apparently willfully or repeatedly violated Section 222 of the Act, section 64.2009(e) of the Commission's rules and the Commission's EPIC CPNI Order. We find each of the Companies apparently liable for a forfeiture of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000).
