ORDER

Adopted: July 7, 2010

Released: July 7, 2010

By the Deputy Chief, Wireline Competition Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this order we grant a petition filed by Data Research Corporation (DRC) requesting that the Commission direct the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) to process certain funding requests under the E-rate program (more formally known as the schools and libraries universal service support program) for funding year 2001.¹ We also grant DRC's request to withdraw its petition for reconsideration of a Commission order.² In both instances, DRC's petitions refer to the Commission's Puerto Rico Order, which directed USAC to not process E-rate funding requests involving DRC for any services provided to the Puerto Rico Department of Education (PRDOE) in funding years 2001 and 2002.³ For the reasons set forth below, we grant the petition to direct USAC to begin processing the relevant funding requests, and grant the request to withdraw the petition for reconsideration.

II. BACKGROUND

A. E-rate Program Rules and Requirements

2. Under the E-rate program, eligible schools, libraries, and consortia that include eligible schools and libraries may apply for discounts for eligible telecommunications services, Internet access, and internal connections.⁴ To ensure that applicants are able to use the discounted services effectively, and thereby minimize waste, the Commission's rules require applicants to certify that they will have access to the necessary resources to finance both the non-discounted portion of the price of eligible services and the facilities or services their technology plans indicate are required to effectively use the discounted services.⁵ Support for eligible services is conditioned upon the applicant securing access to all of the resources, including computers, training, software, maintenance, and electrical connections necessary to effectively use the services purchased.⁶

3. Under Commission oversight, USAC takes action to prevent waste, fraud, and abuse in the E-rate program.⁷ As part of its ongoing activities to protect against waste, fraud and abuse, USAC defers action on funding commitments for any funding request when it is aware of an active law enforcement investigation directly related to that funding request.⁸

B. DRC Petitions

4. DRC provided Internet access, internal connections, and equipment to the Puerto Rico Department of Education (PRDOE) during funding years 1998 through 2001.⁹ An USAC audit of funding year 1998 found that PRDOE lacked any computers in the classrooms visited,¹⁰ which was a violation of the Commission's rules requiring applicants to have the necessary resources to utilize E-rate services.¹¹ Subsequently, USAC suspended payments to PRDOE for funding years 1998, 1999 and 2000 and suspended consideration of PRDOE's pending applications for funding years 2001 and 2002.¹² On November 25, 2003, the Commission released the Puerto Rico Order which, in relevant part, directed USAC to engage an independent auditor to examine the compliance of the PRDOE with E-rate rules for funding years 2001 and 2002 prior to processing PRDOE's applications for those years.¹³ The Puerto Rico Order further directed that USAC not process any funding requests involving DRC for services rendered during funding years 2001 and 2002, noting that the Puerto Rico Department of Justice was investigating DRC at that time.¹⁴

5. In December 2003, DRC filed a petition for reconsideration and a supporting memorandum requesting that the Commission reconsider the Puerto Rico Order and permit DRC to present evidence in a hearing.¹⁵ In August 2006, DRC filed a petition requesting that the Commission direct USAC to begin processing PRDOE's funding requests related to DRC's provision of service for funding years 2001 and 2002.¹⁶ DRC stated that because the Puerto Rico Department of Justice and the United States Department of Justice had no pending investigations of DRC, it was no longer appropriate for USAC to defer action on the funding requests involving DRC.¹⁷ In June 2010, DRC filed an amended petition withdrawing the 2003 petition for reconsideration and withdrawing requests regarding funding year 2002 because DRC had no relevant funding requests for that year.¹⁸

III. DISCUSSION

6. We grant DRC's petition and direct USAC to resume processing of PRDOE's funding requests involving DRC for funding year 2001. Based on the record before us, we are not aware of any pending Department of Justice investigations of DRC. On July 7, 2005, the U.S. Department of Justice stated that "we have concluded our investigation" of DRC.¹⁹ On March 28, 2006, the Puerto Rico Department of Justice stated that "there were no pending investigations of Data Research Corporation ('DRC') by the Department of Justice of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico related to DRC's involvement with the E-rate Program."²⁰ Because there are no pending Department of Justice investigations of DRC, there is no reason for the funding requests at issue to remain on hold. USAC should resume processing of PRDOE's funding requests involving DRC for funding year 2001 consistent with its normal process, including any procedures to confirm that no violations of the Commission's rules occurred and to ensure that no waste, fraud or abuse of E-rate funds exist. In addition, we grant DRC's request to withdraw its petition for reconsideration.
