PUBLIC SAFETY AND HOMELAND SECURITY BUREAU ANNOUNCES EFFECTIVE DATE FOR TEXT-TO-911 BOUNCE-BACK RULES

PS DOCKET NOS. 11-153 and 10-255

Effective Date: June 28, 2013

On May 8, 2013, the Commission adopted a Report and Order in PS Docket Nos. 11-153 and 10-255.¹ The Report and Order adopted rules requiring all Commercial Mobile Radio Service providers and certain providers of interconnected text messaging services to provide an automatic “bounce-back” text message in situations where a consumer attempts to send a text message to 911 in a location where text-to-911 is not available.² The automatic bounce-back message will provide consumers with an immediate response that text-to-911 is not supported and to contact emergency services by another means, such as by making a voice call. On May 29, 2013 the Report and Order was published in the Federal Register.³ Therefore, pursuant to the Report and Order, the effective date for the rules is June 28, 2013.⁴

For additional information, contact Timothy May, timothy.may@fcc.gov, of the Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau, Policy Division, at (202) 418-1463. Press inquiries should be directed to Rochelle Cohen, (202) 418-1162.

By the Chief, Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau.
