COMMENTS SOUGHT ON ALLOCATION METHOD FOR 844 TOLL FREE CODE OPENING

CC Docket No. 95-155

Comments Due: May 6, 2013

On November 14, 2012, SMS/800, Inc., the company that oversees the 800 Service Management System for the North American Numbering Plan, recommended that the Federal Communications Commission (Commission) open the 844 toll free code on February 15, 2014.¹ When the Commission opens the 844 code for the first time, subscribers will have access to essentially all the toll free numbers within the 844 Numbering Plan Area, including vanity numbers within the 844 code. We note that Commission rules prohibit warehousing, hoarding, and brokering of toll free numbers.² In addition, Commission rules provide that a toll free number may only be reserved at the request of a legitimate end user customer and may not be reserved with the intent of selling said number for a fee.³ Nonetheless, we seek comment on adopting a distribution method that would enhance access to 844 toll free numbers on an equitable basis.

The Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) seeks comment on whether the number allocation method it adopted to open the 855 toll free code should be used here. Specifically, on September 30, SMS/800, Inc. had previously advised the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) that the projected date for toll free number exhaust based on existing open codes is first quarter 2014. FitzGerald, President & CEO, SMS/800, Inc. to Julie A. Veach, Chief, Wireline Competition Bureau, CC Docket No. 95-155 (filed Nov. 8, 2012) (providing updated forecast).

² See 47 C.F.R. § 52.105(a) (defining warehousing as the “practice whereby Responsible Organizations, either directly or indirectly through an affiliate, reserve toll free numbers from the Service Management System database without having an actual toll free subscriber for whom those numbers are being reserved.”); see also 47 C.F.R. § 52.107(a) (“hoarding is the acquisition by a toll free subscriber from a Responsible Organization of more toll free numbers than the toll free subscriber intends to use for the provision of toll free service. The definition of hoarding also includes number brokering, which is the selling of a toll free number by a private entity for a fee.”). Mr. Richard Jackowitz, IT Connect, Inc., Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture, 27 FCC Rcd 7896 (2012) (finding Mr. Jackowitz and IT Connect apparently liable, jointly and severally, for a proposed forfeiture penalty in the amount of $240,000 for apparently violating Section 52.107 of the Commission’s rules, willfully and repeatedly by brokering 15 toll free numbers for fees ranging from $10,000 to $17,500 per number).

³ See generally 47 C.F.R. §§ 52.101-52.111 for compliance with the Commission’s toll free rules.

2010, the Bureau directed the toll free administrator to limit each Responsible Organization (RespOrg) to 100 numbers in the 855 code, per day, for the first 30 days that the code was open, thus waiving the Commission's rule that toll free numbers be distributed without limitation on a first-come, first-served basis during the 30-day allocation period.⁴ The Bureau adopted that method to help ensure an efficient and equitable distribution of new numbers at the code's opening. Interested parties are requested to notify us of any concerns they have about that allocation method and specify how the Commission could structure an allocation method to address those concerns.⁵

Pursuant to sections 1.415 and 1.419 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR §§ 1.415, 1.419, interested parties may file comments on or before the date indicated above.
