ORDER

Adopted: May 1, 2013

Released: May 3, 2013

By the Deputy Chief, Consumer Policy Division, Consumer & Governmental Affairs Bureau:

1. In this Order, we consider the complaint filed by Complainant¹ alleging that Central Telecom Long Distance, Inc. (Central Telecom) changed Complainant's telecommunications service provider without obtaining authorization and verification from Complainant in violation of the Commission's rules.² We conclude that Central Telecom's actions did result in an unauthorized change in Complainant's telecommunications service provider and we grant Complainant's complaint.

2. In December 1998, the Commission released the Section 258 Order in which it adopted rules to implement Section 258 of the Communications Act of 1934 (Act), as amended by the Telecommunications Act of 1996 (1996 Act).³ Section 258 prohibits the practice of

Prior to the adoption of Section 258, the Commission had taken various steps to address the slamming problem. See, e.g., Policies and Rules Concerning Unauthorized Changes of Consumers' Long Distance Carriers, CC Docket No. 94-129, Report and Order, 10 FCC Rcd 9560 (1995), stayed in part, 11 FCC Rcd 856 (1995); Policies and Rules Concerning Changing Long Distance Carriers, CC Docket No. 91-64, 7 FCC Rcd 1038 (1992), reconsideration denied, 8 FCC Rcd 3215 (1993); Investigation of Access and Divestiture Related Tariffs, CC Docket No. 83-1145, Phase I, 101 F.C.C.2d 911, 101 F.C.C.2d 935, reconsideration denied, 102 F.C.C.2d 503 (1985).

“slamming,” the submission or execution of an unauthorized change in a subscriber’s selection of a provider of telephone exchange service or telephone toll service.⁴ In the Section 258 Order, the Commission adopted aggressive new rules designed to take the profit out of slamming, broadened the scope of the slamming rules to encompass all carriers, and modified its existing requirements for the authorization and verification of preferred carrier changes. The rules require, among other things, that a carrier receive individual subscriber consent before a carrier change may occur.⁵ Pursuant to Section 258, carriers are absolutely barred from changing a customer's preferred local or long distance carrier without first complying with one of the Commission's verification procedures.⁶ Specifically, a carrier must: (1) obtain the subscriber's written or electronically signed authorization in a format that meets the requirements of Section 64.1130 ; (2) obtain confirmation from the subscriber via a toll-free number provided exclusively for the purpose of confirming orders electronically; or (3) utilize an independent third party to verify the subscriber's order.⁷

3. The Commission also has adopted liability rules. These rules require the carrier to absolve the subscriber where the subscriber has not paid his or her bill. In that context, if the subscriber has not already paid charges to the unauthorized carrier, the subscriber is absolved of liability for charges imposed by the unauthorized carrier for service provided during the first 30 days after the unauthorized change.⁸ Where the subscriber has paid charges to the unauthorized carrier, the Commission’s rules require that the unauthorized carrier pay 150% of those charges to the authorized carrier, and the authorized carrier shall refund or credit to the subscriber 50% of all charges paid by the subscriber to the unauthorized carrier.⁹ Carriers should note that our actions in this order do not preclude the Commission from taking additional action, if warranted, pursuant to Section 503 of the Act.¹⁰

4. We received Complainant’s complaint on May 3, 2010, alleging that Complainant’s telecommunications service provider had been changed to Central Telecom without Complainant’s authorization. Pursuant to Sections 1.719 and 64.1150 of our rules,¹¹ we notified Central Telecom of the complaint and Central Telecom responded on June 24, 2010.¹² Central Telecom states that authorization was received and confirmed through third party verification (TPV). The Commission's rules require that the verification elicit, amongst other things, confirmation that the person on the call is "authorized to make the carrier change."¹³ In the TPV at issue in this case, the verifier instead asks whether the person on the call is "authorized to make changes to your long distance service." A switch from one carrier to another carrier differs from merely making changes to the customer's phone service. As we emphasized in the Fourth Report and Order, "any description of the carrier change transaction... shall not be misleading "and verifiers should convey explicitly that "the consumers will have authorized a carrier change, and not, for instance, an upgrade in existing service (emphasis added)."¹⁴ We find that Central Telecom's actions were in violation of our carrier change rules, and we discuss Central Telecom's liability below.¹⁵

5. Pursuant to Section 64.1170(b) our rules, Central Telecom must forward to Verizon an amount equal to 150% of all charges paid by the subscriber to Central Telecom along with copies of any telephone bills issued from Central Telecom to the Complainant.¹⁶ Within ten days of receipt of this amount, Verizon shall provide a refund or credit to Complainant in the amount of 50% of all charges paid by Complainant to Central Telecom. Complainant has the option of asking Verizon to re-rate Central Telecom charges based on Verizon rates and, on behalf of Complainant, seek from Central Telecom, any re-rated amount exceeding 50% of all charges paid by Complainant to Central Telecom. Verizon must also send a notice to the Commission, referencing this Order, stating that it has given a refund or credit to Complainant.¹⁷ If Verizon has not received the reimbursement required from Central Telecom within 45 days of the release of this Order, Verizon must notify the Commission and Complainant accordingly. Verizon also must notify the Complainant of his or her right to pursue a claim against Central Telecom for a refund of all charges paid to Central Telecom.¹⁸

6. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that, pursuant to Section 258 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. § 258, and Sections 0.141, 0.361 and 1.719 of the Commission's rules, 47 C.F.R. §§ 0.141, 0.361, 1.719, the complaint filed by

¹⁵ If Complainant is unsatisfied with the resolution of this complaint, Complainant may file a formal complaint with the Commission pursuant to Section 1.721 of the Commission's rules, 47 C.F.R. § 1.721. Such filing will be deemed to relate back to the filing date of Complainant's informal complaint so long as the formal complaint is filed within 45 days from the date this order is mailed or delivered electronically to Complainant. Complainant against Central Telecom IS GRANTED.

7. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that, pursuant to Section 64.1170(d) of the Commission's rules, 47 C.F.R. § 64.1170(d), Complainant is entitled to absolution for the charges incurred during the first thirty days after the unauthorized change occurred and neither Central Telecom nor Verizon may pursue any collection against Complainant for those charges.

8. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that this Order is effective upon release.
