PUBLIC SAFETY AND HOMELAND SECURITY BUREAU SEEKS COMMENT ON STATE OF FLORIDA'S REQUEST FOR WAIVER OF TRAVELERS' INFORMATION STATION DISTANCE REQUIREMENT

File No. 0005642517

Comments Date: February 14, 2014
Reply Comments Date: March 3, 2014

The Commission's Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau (Bureau) seeks comment on the above-captioned waiver petition (Petition) filed on May 19, 2013 by the State of Florida (Florida).¹ On February 27, 2013, Florida applied for a license to operate two Travelers' Information Stations (TIS)² in Fort Lauderdale, on 1660 kHz, at the intersections of I-595 and 112th Ave., and I-595 and Highway 441, respectively.³ On March 13, 2013, the Commission returned Florida's application because it did not "provide the contour studies used to make the certification that shows you meet rule 90.242(a)."⁴ Florida then filed its Petition, which, pursuant to Section 1.925 of the Commission's rules,⁵ requests waiver of Section 90.242(a)(2)(i) of the Commission's rules.⁶

Section 90.242(a)(2)(i) requires, in relevant part:

A statement certifying that the transmitting site of the Travelers' Information Station will be located ... at least 130 km (80.6 miles) outside the measured 0.5 mV/m daytime contour (0.1 mV/m for Class A stations) of any AM broadcast station operating on the same channel, or, if ¹ See "Request for Waiver," in Universal Licensing System, Public Safety Pool, Conventional - 0005642517 - FLORIDA, STATE OF, Administration (filed May 9, 2013) (Petition).

² Public Safety licensees may use TIS frequencies to transmit on the AM broadcast band (530-1700 kHz) non-commercial voice information pertaining to traffic and road conditions, traffic hazards and travel advisories, directions, availability of lodging, rest stops and service stations, and descriptions of local points of interest. 47 C.F.R. § 90.242(a).

⁵ 47 C.F.R. § 1.925. We note that Florida cites to section 1.3 of the Commission's rules. However, because the application at issue is for a license in the Wireless Radio Service, section 1.925 provides the applicable waiver standard.

⁶ 47 C.F.R. § 90.242(a)(2)(i).

nighttime operation is proposed, outside the theoretical 0.5 mV/m-50% nighttime skywave contour of a U.S. Class A station.

In its Petition, Florida states that it has determined that its proposed TIS stations would be located approximately 35 miles from the 0.5 mV/m contour of AM station WCNZ on Marco Island, Florida, also operating on 1660 kHz.⁷ Because the proposed TIS stations would operate less than 80.6 miles from the 0.5 mV/m contour of co-channel AM station WCNZ, Florida seeks a waiver of Section 90.242(a)(2)(i).

In support of its Petition, Florida states that its requested waiver “would serve the underlying purpose of the rule. The purpose of the [TIS] rules is to protect AM radio stations from interference while allowing [TIS] stations to be operated by highway administrations to provide essential safety information to vehicles on the highways.”⁸ According to Florida, its proposed locations are “sufficient in this case to ensure that no interference occurs.”⁹ Florida states that its coverage map shows that WCNZ is located on the West Coast of Florida, in the Fort Myers-Naples, Florida Designated Market Area (DMA), and that the proposed TIS stations would be located on the East Coast of Florida, to serve the I-595 corridor in the Miami-Fort Lauderdale DMA.¹⁰ Therefore, according to Florida, “notwithstanding the coverage map, the proposed [TIS] station is well outside the service area of WCNZ.”¹¹

Florida further states that “[l]istening tests were conducted at the proposed location for the TIS and in the area nearby and station WCNZ could not be heard.”¹² Florida attributes this to the fact that WCNZ “is a 10 kW station located on the other side of the State approximately 80 miles from the proposed location of Florida’s TIS stations, so that the area of interest is outside the WCNZ 0.14 mV/m fringe area” and that the “densely-populated Miami-Fort Lauderdale DMA has many sources of noise and interference on the AM band.”¹³

In addition, Florida notes that the proposed TIS stations will be used by the State of Florida Highway Administration to serve traffic on I-595, a major artery, within a hurricane impact zone where travelers’ information service is essential for public safety.¹⁴ Florida indicates that State of Florida Highway Administration has selected 1660 kHz for TIS service in this area and has made a substantial investment in signage directing travelers to keep their radios tuned to 1660 kHz for travelers’ information.¹⁵

⁷ Petition at 1. By the Bureau’s calculations, one of Florida’s proposed transmitters would operate at approximately 37 miles from the closest point of the WCNZ contour, and the other would operate at approximately 43 miles from the closest point of the WCNZ contour.

Finally, Florida states that grant of its request “will serve the public interest as it will allow the State ... to provide a Traveler’s Information Station service to the motoring public on a major roadway in the Miami-Fort Lauderdale DMA.”¹⁶
