BENCHMARK OF THE COMMISSION'S UPDATED E911 LOCATION ACCURACY RULES AND PROVIDES UPDATED CONTACT INFORMATION FOR EXCLUSION REPORTING

PS Docket No. 07-114

By this Public Notice, the Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau (Bureau) reminds Commercial Mobile Radio Service (CMRS) providers subject to Section 20.18 of the Commission's rules,¹ and other interested parties, of the January 18, 2014 deadline applicable to CMRS providers that deploy network-based location accuracy technologies. The Commission established this benchmark deadline in the E911 Location Accuracy Second Report and Order in PS Docket 07-114.² Specifically, as of January 18, 2014, CMRS providers deploying network-based technologies must meet the following standard on location accuracy for 911 calls:

- 100 meters for 67 percent of calls, in 70 percent of counties or PSAP service areas, which must cover at least 80 percent of the population covered by the CMRS provider across its entire network.³
- 300 meters for 90 percent of calls, in 60 percent of counties or PSAP service areas, which must cover at least 70 percent of the population covered by the CMRS provider across its entire network.⁴

Compliance with these standards will be measured on a per-county or per-PSAP basis using, at the CMRS provider's election, (1) network-based accuracy data, or (2) blending reporting data as provided under 47 C.F.R. § 20.18(h)(1)(iv).⁵ All other previously announced obligations pursuant to Section 20.18 of the Commission's rules remain in effect.⁶

Such blending shall be based on the weighting accuracy data in the ratio of assisted GPS (“A-GPS”) handsets to non-A-GPS handsets in the carrier’s subscriber base. The

Carriers' Lists of Exclusions from the Location Accuracy Requirements
