² Letter from James W. Cicconi, Senior Executive Vice President, External and Legislative Affairs, AT&T Services, Inc., to Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary, FCC, WC Docket No. 10-90 (filed Aug. 27, 2015) (accepting support in the identified states and declining the Phase II offer of model-based support in Missouri, Nevada, and Oklahoma); Letter from Maxine Moreau, Executive Vice President Global Networks, CenturyLink, Inc., to Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary, FCC, WC Docket No. 10-90 (filed Aug. 26, 2015) (accepting support in the identified states and declining the Phase II offer of model-based support in California, Mississippi, Oklahoma, and Wyoming); Letter from Michael Shultz, Vice President, Regulatory & Public Policy, Consolidated Communications Holdings, Inc., to Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary, FCC, WC Docket No. 10-90 (Aug. 27, 2015) (accepting support in all the states where it was offered model-based support); Letter from Michael S. AT&T, CenturyLink, CBT, and Consolidated.³ As required by the Commission,⁴ consistent with their election, we direct USAC to disburse to AT&T, CenturyLink, and CBT, from the broadband reserve account, a lump sum payment associated with January through July 2015 for those states where model-based support is greater than Phase I support. Consistent with Consolidated's election, we direct USAC to disburse to Consolidated in the first quarter of calendar year 2016 a lump sum payment associated with January through July 2015 for Iowa, where model-based support is greater than Phase I support.

³ If the Bureau determines that there is a discrepancy between the number of model-determined locations and the actual number of locations in a price cap carrier's service area in a state, the Commission has delegated authority to the Bureau to adjust the number of funded locations and the associated funding levels on a pro rata basis. Connect America Fund et al., WC Docket No. 10-90 et al., Report and Order, 29 FCC Rcd 15644, 15659, para. 38 n.88 (2014).
