ORDER

Adopted: December 26, 2018

Released: December 26, 2018

By the Deputy Chief, Enforcement Bureau:

1. The Enforcement Bureau of the Federal Communications Commission (Commission) has entered into a Consent Decree to resolve the Commission’s investigation into whether Mobile Communications America, Inc. (Mobile Communications)1 violated Sections 310(d) and 301 of the Communications Act, of 1934, as amended (Act),2 and Sections 1.948 and 1.903 of the Commission’s rules (Rules),3 related to the transfer of control of wireless radio licenses prior to receiving Commission approval, and its operation of wireless stations after their licenses had expired. These sections of the Act and the Rules ensure that the transfer, assignment, and operation of wireless radio authorizations are limited to instances where there has been a prior determination that such a transfer, assignment, and operation is in the public’s “interest, convenience, and necessity.”4 To settle this matter, Mobile Communications admits that it failed to obtain the necessary Commission approval prior to transfer of the wireless licenses in question. Mobile Communications also agrees to implement a compliance plan and to pay a settlement of $93,600 in redress.

2. After reviewing the terms of the Consent Decree and evaluating the facts before us, we find that the public interest would be served by adopting the Consent Decree and terminating the referenced investigation regarding Mobile Communications’ compliance with the Act,5 and Sections 1.948 and 1.903 of the Rules,6 pertaining to unauthorized transfers of control, assignment, and operation of wireless radio licenses. In the absence of material new evidence relating to this matter, we do not set for hearing the question of Mobile Communications’ basic qualifications to hold or obtain any Commission license or authorization.7

1 Any entity that is a “Small Business Concern” as defined in the Small Business Act (Pub. L. 85-536, as amended) may avail itself of rights set forth in that Act, including rights set forth in 15 U.S.C. § 657, “Oversight of Regulatory Enforcement,” in addition to other rights set forth herein.

II. BACKGROUND

3. Section 310(d) of the Act provides that “[n]o construction permit or station license, or any rights thereunder, shall be transferred, assigned, or disposed of in any manner, voluntarily or involuntarily, directly or indirectly, or by transfer of control of any corporation holding such permit or license, to any person except upon application to the Commission and upon finding by the Commission that the public interest, convenience, and necessity will be served thereby.”<sup>11</sup> Section 1.948 of the Rules similarly requires Commission consent prior to the transfer of control or assignment of a wireless radio license.<sup>12</sup>

4. According to Mobile Communications, the Company is a privately held Delaware corporation, created for the purpose of acquiring the stock of Mobile Communications of Hall, LLC, and Mobile Communications of DeKalb, Inc., as well as other radio sales and service organizations on an ongoing basis.<sup>13</sup> Mobile Communications currently operates and has offices in seven states in the Southeast, and all offices report to, and are managed from, the company’s headquarters in Spartanburg, South Carolina.<sup>14</sup>

5. On August 23, 2013, Mobile Communications began executing a series of stock or other asset transactions to acquire entities that then held, among other things, FCC wireless radio licenses.<sup>15</sup> The required Commission consent for transfer of those licenses, however, was not obtained prior to completing such acquisitions.<sup>16</sup>

6. In early 2018, Mobile Communications became aware that it had consummated stock or asset transactions involving wireless radio licenses without obtaining the required prior FCC approval.<sup>17</sup> The Company engaged communications counsel to facilitate an inventory of its licensed and operating facilities and identify non-compliant transactions and the FCC authorizations involved.<sup>18</sup> During that review, the Company also determined that two of the licenses involved had expired for approximately one year and three and one-half months, respectively.<sup>19</sup> Additionally, the Company also discovered that it had completed a pro forma assignment of certain wireless radio assets without obtaining the required prior Commission approval.<sup>20</sup>

7. In April of 2018, Mobile Communications filed a waiver request with the Wireless Bureau, which thereafter referred the matter to the Enforcement Bureau for investigation.<sup>21</sup> Mobile Communications also filed curative applications seeking Commission consent, nunc pro tunc, to cover the transfers of control of the wireless radio licenses and authorizations conveyed to Mobile Communications.<sup>22</sup> Mobile Communications stated in the application filings that its “failure to have followed the necessary FCC processes in these [transfers] is not attributable to indifference to Commission requirements, but to a less than complete understanding of FCC licensing requirements and a lack of appropriate regulatory oversight during a period of unexpectedly rapid growth.”<sup>23</sup> The Company also represented that it “deeply regrets these errors and has already taken steps to ensure that they will not be repeated.”<sup>24</sup>

8. The Enforcement Bureau’s Investigation revealed that Mobile Communications completed seven substantial and two pro forma transfers of control,<sup>25</sup> concerning more than 50 separate licenses without first obtaining prior Commission consent. These transactions comprised two initial stock acquisitions and further transactions involving additional wireless businesses acquired by Mobile Communications or its subsidiaries, and for which the Company thereafter filed applications and associated waiver requests seeking the Commission’s nunc pro tunc approval.<sup>26</sup> In most of those cases, the applications qualified for conditional licensing under FCC Rule Section 90.159.<sup>27</sup> For those that did not qualify for conditional licensing, Mobile Communications submitted applications<sup>28</sup> for Special Temporary Authority.<sup>29</sup>

9. Mobile Communications represents that it has adopted internal procedures designed to prevent future FCC rule violations.<sup>30</sup> The Company explains that it has developed a defined process for conducting due diligence on all potential acquisitions in order to identify possible compliance issues.<sup>31</sup> The Company also represents that it has centralized its FCC licensing procedures and developed a Compliance Manual for distribution to all employees that have any involvement in FCC licensing issues, including the area of customer equipment.<sup>32</sup> Neither the Company nor the Commission has received, or is
