ORDER

Adopted: September 3, 2020
Released: September 3, 2020

By the Chief, Wireline Competition Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. The coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic has caused unprecedented disruptions across the country, including to rural health care providers and schools and libraries that receive support for communications needs through the Commission’s Rural Health Care (RHC) and E-Rate programs. On March 18, 2020, the Wireline Competition Bureau (Bureau) temporarily waived the Commission’s gift rules applicable to the RHC and E-Rate programs to assist rural health care providers and schools and libraries affected by the pandemic. We subsequently waived on a temporary basis an RHC program administrative deadline to allow participants of that program to concentrate their attention on responding to COVID-19. These waivers are set to expire on September 30, 2020. Due to the ongoing disruptions caused by COVID-19 to program participants and the continued need for robust connectivity, we find good cause to extend our waivers of the RHC and E-Rate program gift rules through December 31, 2020. In addition, we waive the RHC deadline for responding to information requests from the Universal Service Administrative Company (USAC) through December 31, 2020. Finally, we direct USAC to provide a 30-day extension to E-Rate program participants impacted by the pandemic that request an extension to respond to certain USAC information requests, including those related to Program Integrity Assurance (PIA) requests, issued through December 31, 2020. With our action, we continue to ensure health care providers, schools, and libraries can benefit from communications technologies during this unprecedented time, while easing administrative burdens on program participants so that they might focus on responding to the ongoing pandemic.

II. BACKGROUND

2. The Commission’s RHC program consists of two component programs: (1) the Telecommunications (Telecom) program; and (2) the Healthcare Connect Fund program. Unless a competitive bidding exemption applies, applicants in the Telecom program must submit an FCC Form 465 to request bids for services and applicants in the Healthcare Connect Fund program must submit an FCC Form 461 to request bids for services and/or equipment, which are then posted on the USAC website. The RHC program’s competitive bidding process must be fair and open and not have been compromised because of improper conduct by the applicant, service provider, or both parties. Among other requirements, a fair and open competitive bidding process requires that all potential bidders and service providers have access to the same information and be treated in the same manner throughout the procurement process. Eligible health care providers may apply for support for eligible services by filing either an FCC Form 466 (Telecom program) or an FCC Form 462 (Healthcare Connect Fund program) with USAC, which uses the forms to determine the appropriate support payment, if any, from the Universal Service Fund (USF). To ensure efficient and effective administration, the RHC program imposes deadlines for responding to USAC inquiries regarding applications and seeking appeals from USAC decisions.

3. Under the E-Rate program, eligible schools, libraries, and consortia (comprised of eligible schools and libraries) may request universal service discounts for eligible services, including connections necessary to support broadband connectivity to eligible schools and libraries. To obtain support, an applicant must comply with the Commission’s competitive bidding rules, enter into an agreement with a service provider, and file an FCC Form 471 with USAC to request E-Rate discounts for the purchase of the services. As with the RHC program’s competitive bidding process, the Commission has stated that the competitive bidding process in the E-Rate program must be fair and open and not have been compromised because of improper conduct by the applicant, service provider, or both parties. All potential program bidders and service providers must have access to the same information and must be treated in the same manner throughout the procurement process.

4. Consistent with these requirements, RHC and E-Rate program participants must adhere to the Commission’s gift rules, which prohibit applicants from soliciting or accepting any gift or other thing of value from a service provider participating in or seeking to participate in either program.\(^5\) Similarly, service providers are prohibited from offering or providing any gift or other thing of value to those personnel of eligible entities involved in either program.\(^6\) In separately adopting gift rules for the RHC and E-Rate programs, the Commission explained that “the restriction on gifts is always applicable and is not in effect or triggered only during the time period when competitive bidding is taking place.”\(^7\) Accordingly, under RHC and E-Rate rules, applicants are not permitted to solicit or accept a gift or thing of value over $20 from a service provider, and service providers are not permitted to offer applicants a gift or thing of value over $20.\(^8\)

5. Prior Orders Responding to COVID-19. The COVID-19 pandemic has affected communities across the United States and the world.\(^9\) To help ensure that health care providers, schools, and libraries have the resources they need to respond to the pandemic and alleviate administrative burdens on program participants, the Bureau issued three orders earlier this year waiving certain RHC and E-Rate program rules and deadlines. The RHC and E-Rate COVID-19 Gift Rules Waiver Order waived each program’s gift rule, thereby allowing service providers to offer, and for RHC and E-Rate program participants to solicit and accept, improved broadband connections or equipment for telehealth or remote learning during the COVID-19 outbreak without running afoul of Commission rules.\(^10\) Building on this relief, the RHC COVID-19 Waiver Order extended the RHC program application filing window, eased competitive bidding requirements for health care providers with expiring evergreen contracts, and extended several RHC program procedural deadlines. These steps were intended to assist health care providers address COVID-19 demands without the diversion of near-term program administrative requirements. Finally, the E-Rate COVID-19 Waiver Order extended several key E-Rate deadlines, including the time frame for responding to USAC information requests, to alleviate administrative burdens on schools and libraries experiencing closures and allow them to focus on transitioning to remote learning during the pandemic.

6. Continuing Impact of COVID-19. COVID-19 has placed extreme demands on rural health care providers attempting to serve a growing caseload of infected patients despite facing equipment and medical supply shortages commonplace in remote parts of the country. The pandemic also has compelled schools and libraries across the country to close their doors in an effort to stop the spread of the disease. The disruptive force of COVID-19 has persisted since we first offered temporary relief to RHC and E-Rate program participants earlier this year. Underequipped rural health care providers continue to face critical challenges serving patients spread out over vast remote areas. In addition, an increasing number of educational institutions and libraries have announced that they will remain closed to begin the upcoming school year, thereby forcing instruction to be offered on a remote, at-home basis only. Thus, the critical need for relief evident earlier this year continues.

III. DISCUSSION

7. To assist RHC and E-Rate program participants responding to COVID-19, we extend our waivers of the RHC and E-Rate program gift rules through December 31, 2020. We further extend the 14-day response deadline for RHC program-related USAC information requests through December 31, 2020. Finally, we direct USAC to give an additional 30 days to E-Rate program participants that request extensions to respond to: information requests issued through December 31, 2020 and related to pending USAC appeals; invoices; FCC Form 500 (Funding Commitment Adjustment Request Form) requests; audits, including Beneficiary and Contributor Audit Program (BCAP) and Payment Quality Assurance (PQA) audits; and PIA requests. Our action extending the gift rule waiver will permit service providers to continue to offer, and eligible RHC and E-Rate entities to continue to solicit and accept, improved capacity, Wi-Fi hotspots, networking gear, or other things of value to assist health care providers, schools and libraries, as well as doctors and patients, teachers, students, school administrators, and librarians and patrons during the coronavirus outbreak. As before, these gifts may include but are not limited to free upgrades to connections, connected devices, equipment, and other services for RHC and E-Rate program participants who provide care via telemedicine and free broadband connections, devices, or other services that support remote learning for students and teachers who will be taking classes at and providing instruction from home as a result of COVID-19. In addition, providing targeted relief of program deadlines will enable health care providers, schools, and libraries to address pressing needs arising from the pandemic while ensuring the smooth administration of the RHC and E-Rate programs.

8. Generally, the Commission’s rules may be waived for good cause shown. The Commission may exercise its discretion to waive a rule where the particular facts make strict compliance inconsistent with the public interest. In addition, the Commission may take into account considerations of hardship, equity, or more effective implementation of overall policy on an individual basis. We find that the extensive disruption to health care providers, schools, and libraries throughout the country and the heightened need for telemedicine and remote learning caused by COVID-19 present compelling and unique circumstances that merit an extended waiver of certain rules. We conclude that any potential costs to the RHC or E-Rate programs that could result from this Order will be outweighed by the benefits of our action.

A. RHC Program

9. We extend through December 31, 2020 waivers to the RHC program gift rule to enable health care providers to receive free upgraded services from service providers and permit stakeholders an additional 28 days to respond to USAC information requests.

10. RHC Program Gift Rule. Although our RHC program gift rule waiver was originally set to expire on September 30, 2020, we indicated in March that we would monitor the situation and assess the need for extended relief after that date. Five months later, health care providers in rural areas remain severely burdened by the demands of COVID-19. Moreover, we have seen that enhanced telehealth programs can help to lessen these demands. For example, researchers report that a rural hospital system in northern Michigan implemented several telehealth measures after a statewide stay-at-home order was issued. More than 500 health care professionals and 75 ambulatory practices offered video and telephone services resulting in more than 14,000 virtual visits in a six-week period. This Michigan system also uses telehealth to screen and triage patients before arriving. Successful telehealth efforts such as Michigan’s lead us to conclude that extending the waivers of the RHC program gift rule for an additional three months (through December 31, 2020) to allow service providers to offer and provide free upgrades, connected devices, networking equipment, services, or other things of value to health care providers is an appropriate measure to take to address the extraordinary circumstances caused by COVID-19. The gift rule waiver that we extend today is limited to health care providers involved in the screening and treatment of patients for COVID-19 and for providing service to other patients in an effort to both help mitigate the spread of COVID-19 and devote limited on-site medical resources towards treatment of COVID-19.

11. When waiving the RHC program gift rule in March, we also waived two other rules that we determined could serve as regulatory obstacles preventing service providers from voluntarily offering to assist health care providers respond to the pandemic – specifically, section 54.611(b), which requires health care providers to pay the unsupported portion of service costs in the Healthcare Connect Fund Program, and section 54.603(b), which requires health care providers in the Telecom Program to pay the urban rate. To help health care professionals more effectively respond to the pandemic, we extend the waivers of sections 54.611(b) and 54.603(b) through December 31, 2020. We also waive any other requirement, to the extent necessary, in these special circumstances to effectuate the RHC program relief granted, including restrictions on certification requirements.

12. Extending the Response Time for USAC Information Requests. RHC program applicants are generally required to respond to information requests from USAC within 14 days or their applications will be denied. Recognizing that health care providers with administrative resources diverted due to the pandemic could have difficulties timely responding to USAC, the RHC COVID-19 Waiver Order waived that 14-day deadline and extended it by an additional 28 days for information requests issued on or before September 30, 2020. We conclude that the need for this form of relief will outlast the initial waiver period, and therefore extend the waiver through December 31, 2020. Health care providers and services providers will continue to have an extra 28 days (42 days in total) to respond to information requests issued by USAC on or before December 31, 2020. As before, the waiver applies to information requests related to funding requests, appeals and waivers, invoices, audits, and other documentation submitted by RHC program applicants.

B. E-Rate Program

13. E-Rate Program Gift Rule. In March, we temporarily waived the E-Rate program gift rule through September 30, 2020 to provide relief to schools and libraries affected by COVID-19 and make it easier for service providers to support remote learning efforts. The resulting partnerships between schools, libraries, and service providers have proven to be beneficial in providing flexibility to address evolving connectivity needs caused by the pandemic. For example, when a rural school district in southern Illinois needed to implement a COVID-19 responsive plan to address the needs of 18% of students without reliable broadband Internet access, the waiver of the E-Rate gift rule enabled the district to successfully solicit an upgrade to their connection from their service provider so that students could complete their homework from the school’s parking lot. As many schools and libraries are now either fully or partially closing their buildings for the upcoming school term due to the pandemic, and relying on remote learning to provide education for students, we find it is in the public interest to extend our waiver of the E-Rate program gift rule through December 31, 2020. In so doing, we continue to enable service providers to offer, and E-Rate program participants to solicit or accept, broadband connections, Wi-Fi hotspots and other devices, networking gear, system upgrades, or other things of value that could help students, teachers, and patrons affected by these closures during this unprecedented time. In particular, we find an extension of our waiver appropriate in this limited and unique circumstance to ensure students with limited or no Internet connection are connected at home and prevent them from falling behind their peers, furthering the effects of the digital divide.

41 To ensure that RHC program participants have sufficient resources for the treatment of COVID-19 patients, health care providers and service providers participating in the RHC program will not be required to request an extension of the deadline to respond to information requests.

Additionally, we recognize that the transition to remote learning has resulted in increased demands for on-campus Internet connectivity during the pandemic in a way that was not anticipated. We clarify that, under this waiver, service providers may offer, and schools and libraries may solicit or accept, gifts of additional bandwidth through December 31, 2020 to meet the increased on-campus connectivity needs of schools and libraries in response to the pandemic without running afoul of the E-Rate program rules. We also waive any other requirement, to the extent that is necessary, in these special circumstances to effectuate the relief granted. At the same time, we remind E-Rate applicants of their obligation to comply with state and local procurement laws, and we note that applicants are still subject to the provisions of the 2014 Second E-Rate Order.

44 See, e.g., Jana Bounds, An unexpected $15,000 gift, Lone Peak Lookout (Aug. 6, 2020), http://www.lonepeaklookout.com/news/unexpected-15000-gift (explaining how the E-Rate gift rule waiver enabled 3 Rivers Communications to provide $15,000 grants to thirteen libraries in its service area); see also SHLB, CoSN, & SETDA Letter, at 2 (stating that the waiver of the gift rule has benefitted schools, libraries and healthcare providers); SECA Letter, at 3 (requesting an extension of the gift rule waiver to enable continued arrangements between schools and service providers to meet the educational needs of students during the pandemic).

46 See SHLB, CoSN, & SETDA Letter, at 1-2 (noting several schools’ plans to shift to remote learning for the fall).
48 See SECA Letter, at 1 (stating that remote learning requires considerably more Internet bandwidth on campus, in comparison to in-person instruction).
49 Nevertheless, we remind applicants that they are still required to pay the non-discount portion of the cost of eligible E-Rate services pursuant to section 54.523 of the Commission’s rules, and we clarify that this waiver does not permit service providers to cover an applicant’s non-discount share. 47 CFR § 54.523. to the program rules requiring a fair and open competitive bidding process as they begin competitive bidding for funding year 2021.\textsuperscript{51}

15. Extending the Timeframe for Responding to USAC Information Requests. In light of the number of schools and libraries facing disruptions due to COVID-19, in April, we directed USAC to provide an automatic, 30-day extension of the deadline to respond to certain USAC information requests issued between March 11, 2020 and the start of the summer deferral period, May 22, 2020.\textsuperscript{52} Given that the summer deferral period will end on September 11, 2020 and the difficulties caused by COVID-19 still persist,\textsuperscript{53} we direct USAC to provide a 30-day extension to program participants that file an extension request with an explanation of the entities’ inability to respond (e.g., dates of closure, difficulty securing the appropriate resources)\textsuperscript{54} to information requests issued between September 11, 2020 and December 31, 2020 and related to the following: pending USAC appeals; invoices; pending FCC Form 500 requests, including service substitutions, Service Provider Identification Number (SPIN) changes, or funding request cancellation requests; audits, including BCAP and PQA audits; and PIA requests. To ensure timely review and issuance of decisions, including funding decisions, during this time, we continue to encourage all program participants, to the extent practicable, to continue to work on and submit responses to all information requests as they are able.

C. Preventing Waste, Fraud, and Abuse.

16. We are committed to guarding against waste, fraud, and abuse in the USF programs. Accordingly, we require all eligible RHC and E-Rate program participants to retain records documenting the services, equipment, or other things of value that they receive pursuant to the waivers described above and consistent with the document retention periods applicable to each program.\textsuperscript{55} Although we grant the limited waivers described herein, program participants and service providers remain otherwise subject to audits and investigations to determine compliance with USF program rules and requirements. We will require USAC to recover funds through its normal process that we discover were not used properly. We emphasize that we retain the discretion to evaluate the uses of monies disbursed through the USF programs and to determine on a case-by-case basis that waste, fraud, or abuse of program funds occurred, and that recovery is warranted. Additionally, in the event we discover any improper activity resulting from our action today, we will subject the offending party to all available penalties at our disposal, and will direct USAC to recover funds, assess retroactive fees and/or interest, or both. We remain committed to ensuring the integrity of the RHC and E-Rate programs and will continue to aggressively pursue instances of waste, fraud, or abuse under our own procedures and in cooperation with law enforcement agencies.
