ORDER

Adopted: October 2, 2020

Released: October 2, 2020

By the Deputy Chief, Enforcement Bureau:

1. The Enforcement Bureau (Bureau) of the Federal Communications Commission has entered into a Consent Decree to resolve its investigation into whether Cass Telephone Company (Cass) timely filed an annual reliability certification regarding its 911 circuit auditing, central office backup power, and diverse network monitoring. This certification is designed to ensure that covered 911 service providers have taken reasonable measures to provide reliable 911 service by either implementing industry-backed “best practices” or alternative measures that are reasonably sufficient to ensure reliable 911 service. To settle this matter, Cass admits that it failed to timely file its 2019 annual 911 reliability certification, will implement a compliance plan, and will pay a $3,200 civil penalty.

2. After reviewing the terms of the Consent Decree and evaluating the facts before us, we find that the public interest would be served by adopting the Consent Decree and terminating the referenced investigation regarding Cass’s compliance with section 9.19(c) of the Commission’s rules.<sup>1</sup>

3. In the absence of material new evidence relating to this matter, we do not set for hearing the question of Cass’s basic qualifications to hold or obtain any Commission license or authorization.<sup>2</sup>

4. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that, pursuant to section 4(i) of the Act<sup>3</sup> and the authority delegated by sections 0.111 and 0.311 of the Commission’s rules,<sup>4</sup> the attached Consent Decree IS ADOPTED and its terms incorporated by reference.

5. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the above-captioned matter IS TERMINATED.

CONSENT DECREE

1. The Commission requires covered 911 service providers to file annual reliability certifications regarding their 911 circuit auditing, central office backup power, and diverse network monitoring. Each year, covered 911 service providers must certify that they have taken reasonable measures to provide reliable 911 service by either implementing industry-backed “best practices” or alternative measures that are reasonably sufficient to ensure reliable 911 service.<sup>1</sup> In furtherance of these requirements, the Federal Communication Commission’s Enforcement Bureau and Cass Telephone Company (Cass or Company), by their authorized representatives, hereby enter into this Consent Decree for the purpose of terminating the Enforcement Bureau’s investigation into whether Cass violated section 9.19(c) of the Rules<sup>2</sup> by its failure to timely file an annual 911 reliability certification for 2019. To resolve this matter, Cass admits that it violated the Commission’s rules, will implement a compliance plan, and will pay a $3,200 civil penalty.

II. BACKGROUND

3. Under section 9.19(c) of the Rules, a covered 911 service provider must file an annual reliability certification regarding its 911 circuit auditing, central office backup power, and diverse network monitoring.<sup>5</sup> Through this annual reliability certification the provider must attest to whether it has met its obligation to implement specified best practices or reasonable alternative measures to mitigate the risk of a 911 service failure, or explain why a requirement is not applicable.<sup>6</sup>

4. Although Cass filed its certification as a covered 911 service provider in 2018, the Company did not timely file its certification for 2019, which was due by October 15, 2019.<sup>7</sup> On April 21, 2020, the Commission’s Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau (PSHSB) contacted Cass via e-mail asking for confirmation that Cass had filed its 2019 911 certification. Cass’s Central Office Technician replied to PSHSB’s e-mail the same day, asking for clarification from PSHSB that the request was in regard to the annual 2019 911 reliability certification filing that Cass believed it had filed, and if so, whether the filing should be resubmitted. Cass did not receive a response from PSHSB and, itself, made no further attempt to contact PSHSB or respond to PSHSB’s inquiry. PSHSB referred this matter to the Enforcement Bureau for appropriate action. On June 17, 2020, the Bureau’s Spectrum

The 911 reliability certification should be filed electronically using the Commission’s online portal at <https://apps2.fcc.gov/rcs911/>.

Enforcement Division (Division) sent a Letter of Inquiry (LOI) to Cass.<sup>8</sup> Cass acknowledged receipt of the LOI, contacted PSHSB to make arrangements to submit the required filing, and contacted the Division for further discussion of the alleged violation.

5. On July 1, the Division held a conference call with Cass and on July 6, 2020, Cass submitted responses to requested information along with attachments and an accompanying affidavit.<sup>9</sup> Cass admitted, under penalty of perjury, to functioning as a covered 911 service provider and failing to submit the 2019 annual reliability certification until June 22, 2020. Cass explained that the failure to file was an oversight due to lack of communication between company departments and delayed further after receiving PSHSB's April 21, 2020 e-mail as it had mistakenly believed the required filing had been made. Cass stated that steps have been taken to ensure that this does not happen again and that failure to file did not impact service provided to the Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP) or the ability of the Public Safety Answering Point to provide service to the public. Cass also noted that it has a history of compliance, and neither it nor its affiliates have ever received an official notice or penalty from the Commission regarding a potential violation of the Act or Rules.

22. Invalidity. In the event that this Consent Decree in its entirety is rendered invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, it shall become null and void and may not be used in any manner in any legal proceeding.

23. Subsequent Rule or Order. The Parties agree that if any provision of the Consent Decree conflicts with any subsequent Rule or order adopted by the Commission (except an order specifically intended to revise the terms of this Consent Decree to which the Company does not expressly consent) that provision will be superseded by such Rule or order.
