PUBLIC SAFETY AND HOMELAND SECURITY BUREAU SEEKS COMMENT ON TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT TO CONGRESS ON 911 FEE DIVERSION IN LIGHT OF ONGOING PROCEEDING TO DETER SUCH PRACTICES

PS Docket No. 20-291, 09-14

Comment Date: January 7, 2021

Reply Comment Date: January 22, 2021

In September, the Federal Communications Commission adopted a Notice of Inquiry seeking comment broadly on the effects of 911 fee diversion and the most effective ways to dissuade states and jurisdictions from diverting 911 fees.¹ Today, the Commission released its Twelfth Annual Report to Congress on State Collection and Distribution of 911 and Enhanced 911 Fees and Charges (Twelfth Report). By this Public Notice, the Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau solicits comment on the Twelfth Report and how it should impact the Commission's ongoing proceeding to end the practice of 911 fee diversion by states and localities.

The Commission submits the Report to Congress annually pursuant to the New and Emerging Technologies 911 Improvement Act of 2008, which requires that the Commission report whether 911 fees and charges collected by the states, the District of Columbia, U.S. territories, and Indian territories are being used for any purpose other than to support 911 and Enhanced 911 services. The Twelfth Report covers the collection and distribution of 911 and Enhanced 911 fees and charges for the calendar year ending December 31, 2019, and was submitted to Congress on December 8, 2020.² The Twelfth Report contains detailed information reported by states and other reporting entities on the number and type of 911 calls, the number of Public Safety Answering Points and telecommunicators, expenditure of funds for Next Generation 911 services, deployment of Emergency Services IP Networks and text-to-911 service, establishment of programs to support 911 cybersecurity, and the extent of state-level oversight and auditing of collection and use of 911 fees. Fifty states, the District of Columbia, American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the United States Virgin Islands responded to the 2020 data request.³
