The filing window for applications for new noncommercial educational (NCE) FM new station construction permits closed at 6:00 pm EST on Tuesday, November 9, 2021.¹ No further NCE FM new station applications may be filed. The Media Bureau (Bureau) also announces a temporary freeze on the filing of any amendments to NCE FM new station applications submitted in the November 2021, filing window. The freeze will take effect immediately and will continue in effect until 6:00 pm EST on Monday, November 29, 2021. During this time, the Bureau staff will review the applications to identify mutually exclusive (MX) groups of applications² and applications that are not mutually exclusive with any other application filed in the window (singletons).³ Following this period, the Bureau expects to release forthcoming public notices to identify the MX groups of applications and explain the procedures for filing settlement agreements and technical amendments.⁴
