NOTICE OF APPARENT LIABILITY FOR FORFEITURE

Adopted: February 25, 2021

Released: February 25, 2021

By the Chief, Enforcement Bureau:

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Slopeside Internet, LLC (Slopeside), a facilities-based broadband provider, apparently failed to file one FCC Form 477 and apparently filed late nine times. Taking into account Slopeside’s history of apparent Form 477 violations, we propose a penalty of $20,000 against Slopeside for apparently failing to file, and to timely file, its broadband data.

II. BACKGROUND

2. To accomplish its broadband goals, the Federal Communications Commission (the Commission or FCC) requires facilities-based broadband service providers to file FCC Form 477 twice each year. The March 1 filing reports data as of December 31 of the prior year, and the September 1 filing reports data as of June 30 of the current year.<sup>1</sup> Form 477 contains important information that assists the Commission in carrying out its statutory mandates, including the requirement that the Commission “shall encourage the deployment on a reasonable and timely basis of advanced telecommunications capability to all Americans.”<sup>2</sup> Form 477 filings contain service speed and subscriber information that the Commission uses to assess the state of broadband availability in the United States, and to take steps to further the goal of increasing that availability.<sup>3</sup> The Commission uses data obtained from FCC Form 477 to “describe the deployment of broadband infrastructure,”<sup>4</sup> and the collected data enable the Commission to appropriately target universal service funds to unserved and underserved regions and to meet public safety obligations. Federal and state agencies and the general public also benefit from the data reported on Form 477.

<sup>1</sup> See 47 CFR §§ 1.7001, 1.7002; FCC Form 477 Local Telephone Competition and Broadband Reporting Instructions for Filing as of December 31, 2019 and Beyond at 32 (December 31, 2019 FCC Form 477 Instructions). Section 1.7001 directs FCC Form 477 filers to make filings “in accordance with the Commission’s rules and instructions to the FCC Form 477,” and warns that “[f]ailure to file the FCC Form 477 in accordance with the Commission’s rules and instructions to the Form 477 may lead to enforcement action pursuant to the Act and any other applicable law.” From time-to-time the Commission has issued a Public Notice shifting the filing data beyond March 1st or September 1st because those data coincide with a date that the Commission was officially closed (e.g., due to a weekend or Federal holiday) or because of maintenance of the electronic filing system.

3. Since 2005, and beginning with the filing due September 1, 2005 for data as of June 30, 2005, the Commission has required “all facilities-based providers” of fixed and mobile broadband connections to end-users to submit counts of broadband connections in FCC Form 477.<sup>5</sup> As explained in a related 2004 FCC news release, this includes facilities-based providers in rural areas, regardless of their size.<sup>6</sup> Fixed wireless facilities-based broadband providers have been required to file both “deployment” and “subscription” data on their FCC Form 477 filings since 2014.<sup>7</sup> The Commission has underscored the importance of timely and accurate FCC Form 477 filings through enforcement advisories and enforcement action.<sup>8</sup>

4. Slopeside is a facilities-based provider of broadband connections to end users via terrestrial fixed wireless.<sup>9</sup> Slopeside held a Commission license that was in effect between March 2019 and October 2020.<sup>10</sup>

5. Between December 2014 and March 2020, Slopeside made nine Form 477 filings that were between one day and over three months late.<sup>11</sup> Most recently, Slopeside’s Form 477 that was due on March 2, 2020 was filed on March 13, 2020.<sup>12</sup> Additionally, Slopeside failed to file its Form 477 that was due on September 1, 2020. In response to a late notice from the Commission concerning the missing September 2020 filing, Slopeside stated that it intended to make the required filing at some future unspecified date.<sup>13</sup> No such filing has yet been made.

III. DISCUSSION

6. Violations of the FCC Form 477 filing requirements are significant because FCC Form 477 is a critical fact-gathering instrument that informs the Commission's efforts to advance broadband availability. Moreover, in many instances service providers submitting FCC Form 477 data have the best, if not the only, reliable data about where their facilities are located and which areas they can serve. Timely data is essential to the mission of fostering the availability of broadband services across the United States, and failing to provide it materially impairs the Commission's ability to assess broadband deployment and to measure the subscribership upon which Commission policy is based.

A. Slopeside Apparently Violated Sections 1.7001 and 1.7002 of the Commission's Rules

7. We conclude that Slopeside apparently violated sections 1.7001 and 1.7002 of the Commission's rules by failing to timely file nine Forms 477, which were due between December 11, 2014 and March 2, 2020,<sup>14</sup> and by failing to make the required Form 477 filing that was due on September 1, 2020.

8. Even though Slopeside has been providing facilities-based broadband service to end users since at least June 2014,<sup>15</sup> and therefore has been required to timely file FCC Forms 477 twice every year for at least six years,<sup>16</sup> it has a pattern of tardy filings. Specifically, between 2014 and 2020, Slopeside apparently made nine Form 477 filings that were between one day and over three months late.<sup>17</sup> Most recently, Slopeside's Form 477 that was due on March 2, 2020 was filed on March 13, 2020.<sup>18</sup> Further, Slopeside apparently failed to file its Form 477 data that was due on September 1, 2020. Of these violations, only the late filing due on March 2, 2020 and the missed filing due on September 1, 2020 are within our one-year statute of limitations for proposing a forfeiture.<sup>19</sup>

B. Proposed Forfeiture

9. Section 503(b) of the Act authorizes the Commission to impose a forfeiture against any entity that “willfully or repeatedly fail[s] to comply with any of the provisions of the [Act] or of any rule, regulation, or order issued by the Commission.”<sup>20</sup> For the type of violation at issue here, section 503(b)(2)(D) of the Act authorizes us to assess a forfeiture of up to $20,731 for each violation or each day of a continuing violation, up to a statutory maximum of $155,485 for a single act or failure to act.<sup>21</sup> In exercising our forfeiture authority, we must consider the “nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of the violation and, with respect to the violator, the degree of culpability, any history of prior offenses, ability to pay, and such other matters as justice may require.”<sup>22</sup>

10. In addition, the Commission has established forfeiture guidelines that establish base penalties for certain violations and identify criteria that we consider when determining the appropriate penalty in any given case.<sup>23</sup> Section 1.80(b) of the Commission’s rules establishes a base forfeiture of $3,000 for failure to file a required form or information, for each violation or each day of a continuing violation. We have discretion, however, to depart from these guidelines, taking into account the particular facts of each individual case.<sup>24</sup>

11. Given the critical need to ensure accurate broadband services data and the fundamental role that FCC Form 477 data plays in policymaking and broadband subsidy funding decision-making, including accurate targeting of such subsidies only to areas in need of them, violations of FCC Form 477 filing obligations are especially serious.<sup>25</sup> Here, Slopeside apparently has missed one filing and late filed nine Forms 477 between December 2014 and March 2020.<sup>26</sup> All ten are violations of our rules. Even though the statute of limitations for assessing a forfeiture has run on all but two violations,<sup>27</sup> this is compelling evidence of a history of disregard for the Commission’s filing requirements.

12. Considering that Slopeside has an apparent history of prior offenses that fall outside the statute of limitations, an upward adjustment of the $3,000 base forfeiture is justified. As a result of its nine late-filed and one never-filed Forms 477, Slopeside’s data were not included in Commission reports and analysis, which distorted the actual broadband deployment and subscription figures for the United States. Thus, based on these factors, as well as the gravity of impact that such missing data have on guiding broadband policy and monetary decision-making, we propose an upward adjustment of $7,000 per violation for Slopeside's apparently late March 2020 and never filed September 2020 Forms 477, which takes into account the circumstances surrounding the apparent violations and Slopeside's history of apparently failing to file, and to timely file, Form 477.<sup>28</sup>

<sup>19</sup> Section 503(b)(6) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (Act), prohibits the Commission from proposing a forfeiture penalty if the violation charged occurred more than one year prior to the date of the issuance of the notice of apparent liability. 47 U.S.C. § 503(b)(6).

13. Therefore, after applying section 1.80 of the Commission's rules, and the statutory factors, we propose a total forfeiture of $20,000, for which Slopeside is apparently liable.<sup>29</sup>

IV. CONCLUSION

14. We have determined that Slopeside apparently willfully or repeatedly violated sections 1.7001 and 1.7002 of the Commission's rules. Accordingly, Slopeside is apparently liable for a $20,000 forfeiture.
