

Before the Federal Communications Commission
Washington, D.C. 20554

In the Matter of)
Telephone Number Portability) CC Docket No. 95-116 Numbering Resource Optimization) CC Docket No. 99-200

ORDER

Adopted: June 29, 2022

Released: June 29, 2022

By the Chief, Wireline Competition Bureau:

1. On June 16, 2022, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), Department of Homeland Security, announced that the President had issued a Major Disaster Declaration for the State of Montana to supplement state and local recovery efforts in the areas affected by a severe storm and flooding from June 10, 2022 and continuing. To assist telephone subscribers in Montana, we grant, on our own motion, a temporary waiver of the Commission’s telephone number “aging” rule. Specifically, we waive section 52.15(f)(ii), which says that service providers may only age telephone numbers that have been disconnected for up to 90 days before assigning them to other customers.

2. We recognize that customers who have been displaced by the storm and flooding in Montana may want to discontinue their service temporarily and reinstate it at a later time. Due to the catastrophic nature of the damage to telecommunications systems in Montana, we expect that in many cases these customers may seek to reinstate their service after the 90-day period has lapsed. Assisting residential subscribers who are dealing with the effects of a storm and flooding is in the public interest and thus warrants a temporary waiver of section 52.15(f)(ii) of the Commission’s rules. Waiver of section 52.15(f)(ii) will allow service providers in the affected areas, upon customers’ request, to disconnect temporarily customers’ telephone service to avoid billing issues, and then reinstate the customers’ same numbers when service is reconnected. This waiver applies to all companies that provide service in areas of Montana covered by the Major Disaster Declarations. This waiver is in effect immediately and for a 270-day period, expiring on March 27, 2023. These waivers of the aging rule will also apply to residential customers in other areas subject to future Major Disaster or Emergency Declarations signed by the President, due to storms and flooding during 2022. Any future waivers will expire 270 days from the date the President declares a state of emergency or major disaster for affected areas. If service providers are unable to resume service on a normal basis after this time period has lapsed, they should request additional relief from the Wireline Competition Bureau.

3. Also, because of substantial damage to telecommunications systems caused by the storm and flooding in Montana, we recognize that customers in the affected areas may wish to port numbers to

1 FEMA, President Joseph R. Biden, Jr. Approves Major Disaster Declaration for Montana (June 16, 2022), https://www.fema.gov/press-release/20220616/president-joseph-r-biden-jr-approves-major-disaster-declaration-montana.

2 47 CFR § 52.15(f)(ii) (“Aging numbers are disconnected numbers that are not available for assignment to another end user or customer for a specified period of time. Numbers previously assigned to residential customers may be aged for no more than 90 days.”).

locations outside their rate centers. To facilitate their customers' continued access to telecommunications service following the flooding, we encourage service providers to port telephone numbers geographically outside a rate center to the extent it is technically feasible. We also encourage all service providers in the areas affected by the Montana storm and flooding and any future such events covered under this Order to waive call forwarding, message center, and voicemail service charges for affected customers, to the extent lawfully permitted, until the customers' service is restored.

4. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED, pursuant to sections 4(i), 251(b)(2), and 251(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 154(i), 251(b)(2) and 251(e), and sections 0.291 and 1.3 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR §§ 0.291, 1.3, that section 52.15(f)(ii), 47 C.F.R. § 52.15(f)(ii), is waived to the extent herein described herein.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

Trent B. Harkrader
Chief
Wireline Competition Bureau