CHAIRMAN CARR ANNOUNCES TERM EXTENSION OF THE COMMISSION'S INTERGOVERNMENTAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Chairman Carr announces the extension of the term of the Federal Communications Commission's Intergovernmental Advisory Committee ("IAC" or "Committee") by four months. The term of the 2024-2026 IAC is set to expire on April 18, 2026, but will be extended to August 18, 2026.¹ and the extension will provide additional time to further its contributions to the FCC.

The IAC provides guidance, expertise, and recommendations to the Commission on a range of communications issues for which state, local, Tribal and Territorial governments explicitly or inherently share responsibility or administration with the Commission.

Pursuant to the "intergovernmental communication" exemption of UMRA,² the IAC is not subject to, and is not required to follow, the procedures set forth in the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA), 5 U.S.C. App 2 (1988).³
