PETER DOYLE NAMED CHIEF OF MASS MEDIA BUREAU'S AUDIO SERVICES DIVISION

Washington, DC -- Peter Doyle has been named Chief of the Mass Media Bureau's Audio Services Division.

Doyle joined the Commission in 1995 and has served as ASD Deputy Chief since 1998. He is a major contributor to several recent rulemaking proceedings to streamline broadcast application processing and licensing procedures, initiate electronic filing, and increase flexibility in the radio technical rules. He also has been extensively involved in the Commission's terrestrial digital audio broadcasting and low power FM initiatives. Prior to joining the Commission, Doyle was an associate at Arter & Hadden between 1991 – 1995 and at Dow, Lohnes & Albertson between 1985 – 1991, where he specialized in broadcast, wireless cable, and cable matters.

Doyle graduated cum laude with a J. D. degree from the Georgetown University Law Center in 1985. He also holds a B. A. from the University of Rochester and a M. A. in philosophy from the University of Virginia.

Commenting on the appointment, Mass Media Bureau Chief Roy Stewart said, "Peter Doyle has played an important role in the Bureau's ongoing initiative to overhaul broadcast technical rules and procedures. I am pleased that he has agreed to lead the Division at a time when it faces enormous licensing challenges."
