PUBLIC INVITED TO REVIEW DRAFT STRATEGIC PLAN

The Federal Communications Commission announced today that the public is welcome to review and comment on a draft of its revised strategic plan for 2003-2008. The FCC is revising its strategic plan at this time in compliance with the requirements of the Government Performance and Results Act (1993).

The revised draft strategic plan is a “work-in-progress” that is complete enough to allow review and comment on the strategic direction the FCC intends to follow in the coming years. Commenters are asked to focus specifically on:

1. The strategic direction proposed in the document as embodied in the general goals and objectives;
2. Providing additional contextual information not covered in the document’s text; and
3. The means and strategies that the FCC should undertake to accomplish its goals.

Those wishing to review the revised draft plan can find it on the FCC website at:
<http://www.fcc.gov/omd/strategicplan>.

Comments should be sent to KWheeles@fcc.gov no later than August 2, 2002.

Those wishing to submit comments through the U.S. Postal Service should write to Strategic Plan Comments, Karen Wheelless, 445 12th Street, S.W., Room 1-A807, Washington, DC 20554. Because surface mail delivery continues to be slow, mailed comments should be sent significantly in advance of the August 2 deadline.
