

REGULATORY FEES FACT SHEET

Federal Communications Commission
445 12th St., S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20554

July 2004

USE OF THE FCC REGISTRATION NUMBER (FRN) IS MANDATORY

The use of FRNs became mandatory effective December 3, 2001, meaning that all transactions with the FCC now require use of a FCC FRN number. If there is no FRN present on the remittance advice form (Form 159, Form 159-B or Form 159-W) submitted by the regulatee to make fee payment, the FCC will send the filer a notice stating that the payment was received without a FRN and that proper credit for the payment will not occur until the FRN is provided. Regulatory fee payments received without a FRN will be retained by the FCC. Also, a separate remittance advice form is required for each licensee FRN.

You may check the Commission Registration System (CORES) to register for a FRN, to determine if you are still registered, or if you have forgotten your FRN. If you do not yet have a FRN, you register for one through the FCC website listed below, or by completing a Form 160 (CORES Registration Form) and submitting the Form 160 along with your payment and Form 159.

To obtain a FRN:

- Register at www.fcc.gov, click on the CORES Registration link in the left margin.
- Complete Form 160. You may obtain Form 160 at <http://www.fcc.gov/formpage.html> or by calling the FCC's CORES Helpdesk at 1-877-480-3201. You may also pick up Form 160 in Commission Room TW-B200.

To search for an FRN:

- To check your pre-assigned FRN at www.fcc.gov, click on CORES Registration link in the left margin.

If you are unable to register electronically, then submit your completed Form 160 directly to Mellon Bank along with your payment and completed remittance advice form (Form 159, Form 159-B or Form 159-W). Mellon Bank will register you and you will receive a confirmation letter from the FCC through the U.S. Postal Service mail. Your regulatory fees will be credited to that FRN.