FCC Chairman Michael Powell Congratulates Kevin Martin On Selection as Next FCC Chairman

I would like to congratulate Commissioner Martin on being named FCC Chairman by President Bush.

He will soon take a front seat at the technology revolution. His wide knowledge of telecommunication policy issues and insight into the rapidly changing nature of communications technology will serve the agency well. Ultimately, everything the FCC does must serve the public interest and benefit consumers, and I am confident he will be vigilant in pursuing these goals.

I pledge my complete cooperation to ensure a smooth transition, and wish him all the best for every success.
