COMMISSIONER JONATHAN S. ADELSTEIN
ISSUES STATEMENT IN RESPONSE TO
U.S. SUPREME COURT BRAND X DECISION

Washington, DC – FCC Commissioner Jonathan S. Adelstein issued the following statement in response to the U.S. Supreme Court’s decision in National Cable & Telecommunications Association et al v. Brand X Internet Services et al.

“Today, the Supreme Court provided long-awaited guidance on the legal classification of cable broadband modem services. Speeding the wide deployment of broadband services throughout this country is one of the top priorities for the Commission. The Court’s decision should not mean that policymakers turn their backs on American consumers or neglect public safety. I look forward to working with my colleagues at the FCC and with Congress to both promote a truly competitive marketplace and to ensure that all consumers are protected and have access to affordable broadband services.”
