International Bureau Filing System Unavailable Saturday, October 24, 2009

The system currently used for storing attachments and other documents in the International Bureau Filing System (MyIBFS) will be changing. To minimize disruption to our users, installation of the new file storage system and migration of existing attachments to the new system are scheduled for Saturday, October 24, 2009. During the implementation of the new file storage system, MyIBFS will be unavailable to our users.

While the storage system is changing, there will be no change in the filing procedures in MyIBFS. Applications, attachments and pleadings will continue to be submitted and viewed using the current methods. This transition to a new file storage system should be seamless to users.
