Dear Senator Risch:

Thank you for your letter expressing concerns about the effect of the Commission's Universal Service Fund (USF) reforms on rural telecommunications providers. I want to assure you that the Commission will continue to work with all stakeholders, including rural carriers, throughout the reform process.

The Commission's implementation of the Transformation Order continues to be guided by three key goals: expanding broadband to the millions of unserved Americans, preserving voice and broadband service in areas that would not be served absent support, increasing fiscal responsibility and accountability in USF spending to ensure the long term sustainability of the Fund, and setting forth transition periods that recognize business realities. In addition as we hear from stakeholders about concerns with implementation, we will make adjustments as appropriate. For instance, on April 25, 2012, the Commission extended the transition for originating intercarrier compensation payments, a concern raised by many smaller carriers. Likewise, in the Wireline Competition Bureau's April Benchmarks Order, the Bureau revised the initially proposed high-cost loop support benchmark categories to respond to a number of the concerns raised by smaller carriers. In particular, the revised methodology accounts for several additional drivers of cost in comparing spending between carriers, it takes recent investment into consideration, it extends the transition period to give carriers greater time to adjust, and it provides a streamlined process to address any concerns about the accuracy of carriers' data. The Commission also extended a number of reporting deadlines for smaller carriers.

Even as we continue to make necessary adjustments, the Chairman believes that it is important to keep moving forward with implementation of the Commission's once-in-a-generation reforms and not roll back progress that we have made. As we do, the Commission and staff will continue to run a fair, open process in which the valid concerns of stakeholders are addressed – working closely with affected carriers to ensure that residents of the nation's rural and high-cost areas receive the quality voice and broadband services that all Americans need. I appreciate your interest in this very important matter. Please let me know if I can be of any further assistance.
