Re: NANC Reassigned Numbers Database Technical Requirements Document

Dear Ms. Monteith and Mr. Webre,

Transmitted with this cover letter is the final Reassigned Numbers Database Technical Requirements Document created by the North American Numbering Council's (NANC's) Numbering Administration Oversight Working Group (NAOWG) and approved by the NANC today.

As part of its decision to reduce unwanted telephone calls by establishing a single, comprehensive database that will contain reassigned number information, the Commission instructed the NANC to develop a Technical Requirements Document for the database.<sup>1</sup> In compliance with the extension of time order granted by the Bureaus,<sup>2</sup> the Technical Requirements Document is due to the Commission by January 13, 2020. We appreciate the additional time granted in that order, which allowed the NAOWG to more fully consider the complex technical aspects of establishing a reassigned numbers database. The NAOWG and NANC's recommendations are contained in the attached document.

I would like to thank the members of the NAOWG and the hard-working members of the subcommittee responsible for creating such a comprehensive document. The group is continuing its work on recommendations for the mechanisms for the fee structure and pricing for users of the reassigned numbers database. We look forward to presenting you with those recommendations by February 13, 2020.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Respectfully submitted,
