Background: This Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposes to update the Commission’s political programming and recordkeeping rules for broadcast licensees, cable television system operators, Direct Broadcast Satellite (DBS) service providers, and Satellite Digital Audio Radio Service (SDARS) licensees. The proposed updates would conform our rules with statutory amendments, increase transparency, and reflect modern campaign practices.

What the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking Would Do:

1. Propose to revise the definition of “legally qualified candidate for public office” in the Commission’s political programming rules to add the use of social media and creation of a campaign website to the existing list of activities that may be considered in determining whether an individual running as a write-in candidate has made a “substantial showing” of his or her candidacy.

2. Propose to revise the Commission’s political recordkeeping rules to conform with the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002 (BCRA) to include any request for the purchase of advertising time that “communicates a message relating to any political matter of national importance” (i.e., issue ads) and specify the records that must be maintained.
I. INTRODUCTION

In this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM), we propose to update our political programming and recordkeeping rules for broadcast licensees, cable television system operators, Direct Broadcast Satellite (DBS) service providers, and Satellite Digital Audio Radio Service (SDARS) licensees. While the agency has strived to update its guidance to reflect changes in law and campaign practices, it has not undertaken a formal review to update the political programming and recordkeeping rules contained in the Commission's regulations.

This document has been circulated for tentative consideration by the Commission at its August 2021 open meeting. The issues referenced in this document and the Commission's ultimate resolutions of those issues remain under consideration and subject to change. This document does not constitute any official action by the Commission. However, the Acting Chairwoman has determined that, in the interest of promoting the public's ability to understand the nature and scope of issues under consideration, the public interest would be served by making this document publicly available. The Commission's ex parte rules apply, and presentations are subject to "permit-but-disclose" ex parte rules. See, e.g., 47 CFR §§ 1.1206, 1.1200(a). Participants in this proceeding should familiarize themselves with the Commission's ex parte rules, including the general prohibition on presentations (written and oral) on matters listed on the Sunshine Agenda, which is typically released a week prior to the Commission's meeting. See 47 CFR §§ 1.1200(a), 1.1203.
ules since 1991. Given the substantial growth of such programming in recent years, the updates proposed in this item are intended to conform our rules with statutory amendments, increase transparency, and account for modern campaign practices.

2. We propose two revisions to our political programming and recordkeeping rules. First, consistent with modern campaign practices, we propose to revise the definition of “legally qualified candidate for public office” to add the use of social media and creation of a campaign website to the existing list of activities that may be considered in determining whether an individual running as a write-in candidate has made a “substantial showing” of his or her bona fide candidacy. Second, we propose to revise the Commission’s political file rules to conform with the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act of 2002 (BCRA), which included within the political file requirements any request for the purchase of advertising time that “communicates a message relating to any political matter of national importance” (i.e., issue ads) and specify the records that must be maintained.

II. BACKGROUND

3. In addition to the First Amendment protections afforded to material aired by Commission licensees and regulatees, political programming receives additional, special protections. Congress has recognized the great importance of political programming in the United States by passing laws to ensure that those who run for elective office have access to broadcast and other platforms so that they may inform citizens of their positions on critical issues of the day.

4. Political Programming Obligations. Political programming obligations for certain Commission licensees and regulatees are set forth in sections 312(a)(7) and 315 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (Act). Section 312(a)(7) requires broadcast licensees to give legally qualified candidates for federal office “reasonable access” to their facilities, or to permit them to purchase “reasonable amounts of time.” Section 312(a)(7) of the Act also applies to SDARS licensees and DBS

4 47 CFR §§ 73.1940(f), 76.5(q).

7 47 U.S.C. § 312(a)(7). Section 312(a)(7) states:

The Commission may revoke any station license or construction permit —

(7) for willful or repeated failure to allow reasonable access to or to permit purchase of reasonable amounts of time for the use of a broadcasting station, other than a non-commercial educational broadcast station, by a legally qualified candidate for Federal elective office on behalf of his candidacy.

service providers, but it is not applicable to cable system operators. Under section 315(a), if a broadcast licensee permits one legally qualified candidate for a public office to use its station, it must afford all other candidates for that office an “equal opportunity” to use the station. Section 315(b) provides that, during certain periods before an election, legally qualified candidates are entitled to “the lowest unit charge of the station for the same class and amount of time for the same period.” The requirements in section 315 also apply to cable system operators, SDARS licensees, and DBS service providers. The entitlements embodied in sections 312(a)(7) and 315 of the Act are available only to persons who have achieved the status of “legally qualified candidate.”

Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 12 FCC Rcd 5754, 5792, para. 92 (1997) (extending the political programming provisions in sections 312(a)(7) and 315 of the Act to SDARS licensees); 47 CFR § 25.702(a)-(b).

Section 315(a) states, in part:

If any licensee shall permit any person who is a legally qualified candidate for any public office to use a broadcasting station, he shall afford equal opportunities to all other such candidates for that office in the use of such broadcasting station: Provided, That such licensee shall have no power of censorship over the material broadcast under the provisions of this section.

Id. See 47 CFR §§ 73.1941, 76.205.

Specifically, section 315(b)(1) provides:

The charges made for the use of any broadcasting station by any person who is a legally qualified candidate for any public office in connection with his campaign for nomination for election, or election, to such office shall not exceed—

(A) subject to paragraph (2), during the forty-five days preceding the date of a primary or primary runoff election and during the sixty days preceding the date of a general or special election in which such person is a candidate, the lowest unit charge of the station for the same class and amount of time for the same period; and

(B) at any other time, the charges made for comparable use of such station by other users thereof.

Id. See 47 CFR §§ 73.1942, 76.206.

Section 315(c) of the Act defines the term “broadcasting station” as including cable television systems and the terms “licensee” and “station licensee” as including cable operators. 47 U.S.C. § 315(c) (“For purposes of this section— (1) the term ‘broadcasting station’ includes a community antenna television system; and (2) the terms ‘licensee’ and ‘station licensee’ when used with respect to a community antenna television system mean the operator of such system.”).

See supra note 8.

See supra note 9.

While section 312(a)(7) applies only to legally qualified candidates for federal office, section 315 applies to all candidates for elective office, whether federal, state, or local.
5. The Communications Act does not define the term “legally qualified candidate,” and therefore the Commission has adopted a definition, as reflected in section 73.1940. Generally, an individual seeking election (other than for President or Vice President) must publicly announce his or her intention to run for office, must be qualified to hold the office for which he or she is a candidate, and must have qualified for a place on the ballot or have publicly committed himself or herself to seeking election by the write-in method. If seeking election by the write-in method, the individual, in addition to being eligible under applicable law to be a write-in candidate, must make a “substantial showing” that he or she is a bona fide candidate for the office being sought. Section 73.1940(f) of the Commission’s rules specifies the requirements to demonstrate a “substantial showing” of a bona fide candidacy:

The term “substantial showing” of a bona fide candidacy . . . means evidence that the person claiming to be a candidate has engaged to a substantial degree in activities commonly associated with political campaigning. Such activities normally would include making campaign speeches, distributing campaign literature, issuing press releases, maintaining a campaign committee, and establishing campaign headquarters (even though the headquarters in some instances might be the residence of the candidate or his or her campaign manager). Not all of the listed activities are necessarily required in each case to demonstrate a substantial showing, and there may be activities not listed herein which would contribute to such a showing.

6. Political Recordkeeping Obligations. The political recordkeeping requirements serve to reinforce the statutory protections for political programming. The Commission first adopted rules requiring broadcast stations to maintain public inspection files documenting requests for political advertising time more than 80 years ago. It is crucial that stations maintain political files that are complete and up to date because the information in them directly affects, among other things, the statutory rights of opposing candidates to request equal opportunities under section 315(a) of the Act and present their positions to the public prior to an election. Additionally, these files enable the public to verify that licensees have complied with their obligations relating to use of their facilities by candidates for political office and to obtain information about entities sponsoring candidate and issue

17 47 CFR § 73.1940. Section 76.5(q) of the Commission’s rules includes an identical definition of “legally qualified candidates for public office” used for purposes of the political programming rules governing cable systems. Id. § 76.5(q). The definition of “legally qualified candidates for public office” set forth in section 73.1940 also applies for purposes of the political programming obligations of DBS providers and SDARS licensees. 24 Pursuant to section 73.1941(c) of the Rules, candidates have one week from an opponent’s initial “use” to request equal opportunities. 47 CFR § 73.1941(c). The term “use” means a positive, identifiable appearance by voice or likeness of a legally qualified candidate for public office, lasting four or more seconds in any program that is not exempt under section 73.1941(a)(1)-(a)(4) of the Commission’s rules. See Codification of the Commission’s Political Programming Policies, Memorandum Opinion and Order, 9 FCC Rcd 651 (1994); Request by Carter/Mondale Reelection Committee, Inc, for Interpretive Ruling, Letter Ruling, 80 FCC 2d 285 (Broadcast Bur., 1980); Request of Oliver Products for Declaratory Ruling, Memorandum Opinion and Order, 4 FCC Rcd 5953 (1989). The failure by a station to promptly upload information about each “use” denies requesting candidates the notice they need to assert their statutory rights to equal opportunities in a timely manner. advertisements. The Commission also has applied political file rules to cable television system operators, DBS providers, and SDARS licensees, finding that the rationale for imposing such requirements on broadcasters similarly applies to these entities.

7. In 2002, Congress enacted the BCRA, which amended section 315 of the Act. The BCRA added new section 315(e) to codify the Commission’s existing political file obligations by requiring that information regarding any request to purchase advertising time that “is made on behalf of a legally qualified candidate for public office” be placed in the political file. In addition, the BCRA expanded the political file requirements to include any request to purchase political advertising time that “communicates a message relating to any political matter of national importance.” Specifically, section 315(e)(1) of the Act provides that:

A licensee shall maintain, and make available for public inspection, a complete record of a request to purchase broadcast time that –

(A) is made by or on behalf of a legally qualified candidate for public office; or
(B) communicates a message relating to any political matter of national importance, including –

(i) a legally qualified candidate;
(ii) any election to Federal office; or
(iii) a national legislative issue of public importance.

The BCRA, at section 315(e)(2) of the Act, also specifies the kinds of records that must be maintained in political files, and it provides, at section 315(e)(3) of the Act, that “[t]he information required by 27 Section 335 of the Act imposes public interest obligations on DBS providers and requires the Commission, at a minimum, to apply the access to broadcast time requirement of section 312(a)(7) and the use of facilities requirements of section 315 to DBS providers. 47 U.S.C. § 335(a). The Commission adopted rules requiring DBS providers to abide by political file obligations similar to those requirements placed on terrestrial broadcasters and cable systems in order to assist in evaluations of compliance with the political programming rules and to enable competing candidates to review other candidates’ advertising access and rates. DBS Public Interest Obligations Report and Order, 13 FCC Rcd at 23271, para. 41; DBS Public Interest Obligations Sua Sponte Reconsideration, 19 FCC Rcd at 11099, para. 35; 47 CFR § 25.701(d).

III. DISCUSSION

A. “Substantial Showing” for Write-In Candidates

8. In order to update our rules to make them consistent with present-day campaign practices, we propose to amend sections 73.1940(f) and 76.5(q) of the Commission’s rules to add the use of social media and creation of a campaign website to the list of activities that a broadcast licensee or cable operator may consider in determining whether an individual who is running as a write-in candidate has made a “substantial showing” of his or her candidacy. The proposed amendment would recognize both activities as among the practices that are now commonly associated with political campaigning.

9. Only those individuals who have achieved the status of “legally qualified candidate” are entitled to avail themselves of the benefits and privileges bestowed by the political programming rules, including the reasonable access, equal opportunities, and lowest unit charge provisions. If seeking election by the write-in method, an individual, in addition to being eligible under applicable law to be a write-in candidate, must make a “substantial showing” that he or she is a bona fide candidate for the office being sought.

10. Questions as to whether an individual who is running as a write-in candidate has made a “substantial showing” ordinarily arise when such individual approaches a broadcast station or cable system and makes a request to purchase time in furtherance of his or her candidacy or seeks to avail himself or herself of equal opportunities. Sections 73.1940(f) and 76.5(q) define what it means to make a “substantial showing” by listing various activities that are commonly associated with political campaigning, including “making campaign speeches, distributing campaign literature, issuing press releases, and maintaining a campaign headquarters.”

34 Id. § 315(e)(3). See infra para. 15.
35 47 CFR §§ 73.1940(f), 76.5(q). As we explain above, the definition of “legally qualified candidates for public office” set forth in section 73.1940 also applies for purposes of the political programming obligations of DBS providers and SDARS licensees. Id. §§ 25.701(b)(1), 25.702(a). Thus, the analysis and discussion here as well as revisions to the definition in section 73.1940 would apply to these entities as well.

41 47 CFR §§ 73.1940(f), 76.5(q)(5). The Media Bureau has long required that an individual claiming to be a “legally qualified candidate” by the write-in method bears the burden of demonstrating that he or she has made a “substantial showing” of a bona fide candidacy. See, e.g., Complaint of Michael Stephen Levinson, 87 FCC 2d 433, 435 (Broadcast Bur. 1980) (“The burden is on [the potential candidates] to establish to the stations from which [they] seek broadcast time under Section 312 that [they] have ‘engaged to a substantial degree in activities commonly associated with political campaigning.’”). Further, the Media Bureau has held that a broadcaster’s or cable operator’s determination as to whether a potential write-in candidate has satisfied the “substantial showing” requirement is entitled to deference, provided the determination is reasonable and made in good faith. See Complaint by Michael Levinson Against Station WXXI-TV, Rochester, New York, 1 FCC Rcd 1305 (MMB 1986) (Michael Levinson) (“This agency will review the licensee’s decision only to determine if it was unreasonable or made in bad faith.”); Complaint of Douglas S. Kraegar Against Radio Station WTLB Utica, New York, 87 FCC 2d 751, 753 (Broadcast Bur. 1980) (“A licensee has the discretion to make a good faith judgment as to the bona fide qualifications of a write-in candidate.”). 11. At the time our current rules were drafted, social media and campaign websites did not exist. Media coverage of recent campaigns on the national, state, and local levels indicates that the use of social media has become an activity that bona fide candidates routinely use to solicit support, financial contributions, and votes. \(^{42}\) Recent articles reveal that bona fide political campaigns use major social media platforms to advertise, connect with supporters, and fundraise \(^{43}\) and that such engagement in social media use, for example, by creating a Twitter or Facebook account, typically increases donations for new politicians. \(^{44}\) For instance, reports of the most recent election reflect that candidates garnered support by posting photographs and hosting chats on Instagram. \(^{45}\) In addition, social media platforms enable political campaigns to build support by disseminating campaign updates \(^{46}\) and targeting advertisements to potential voters, \(^{47}\) and they provide sophisticated tools to regularly measure user engagement. \(^{48}\)

12. In order that our rules reflect ordinary campaign practices, we propose to add the use of social media for the purpose of promoting or furthering a campaign for public office to the list of recognized campaign activities in sections 73.1940(f) and 76.5(q). We seek comment on this proposal and the types of campaign-related activities for which social media could be used in demonstrating a substantial showing of a bona fide candidacy. For instance, a candidate might use social media to raise funds, solicit votes, share policy positions, and engage in digital dialogues with voters. We note that we are not proposing that social media presence alone would be sufficient to support a status of “legally appropriate factors into account and act reasonably and in good faith, their decisions will be entitled to deference even if the Commission’s analysis would have differed in the first instance.”).

qualified candidate” but that it would be an additional indicator of activities commonly associated with political campaigning needed to make substantial showing of a bona fide candidacy.

13. We also propose to add creation of a campaign website to the list of recognized campaign activities in sections 73.1940(f) and 76.5(q). Recent articles indicate that campaign websites, like social media platforms, are used by candidates to connect to a wide audience of potential voters instantaneously and facilitate direct communication and fundraising. Accordingly, we tentatively conclude that adding the creation of a campaign website to the list of recognized activities is justified for the same reasons provided in support of including use of social media. We again note that a website alone would not be sufficient to support a status of “legally qualified candidate” but that it would be an additional indicator of activities commonly associated with political campaigning needed to make substantial showing of a bona fide candidacy. We seek comment on this conclusion and the proposal.

14. Finally, we seek comment on whether other activities consistent with modern campaign practices, such as the use of digital marketing and advertising, should be added to the list of recognized campaign activities in sections 73.1940(f) and 76.5(q). If additional activities are included, should the substantial showing analysis involve any limiting factors, such as requiring that the marketing and advertising be directed toward persons in areas where votes are being solicited?

B. Implementation of the BCRA and Section 315 of the Act

15. We propose to revise the political file rules for broadcast licensees, cable operators, DBS providers, and SDARS licensees to bring them into conformity with the BCRA and section 315(e) of the Act. As discussed above, in 2002, Congress enacted the BCRA, which, among other things, adopted new section 315(e) of the Act. While the Commission has advised relevant parties consistent with the recordkeeping requirements embodied in section 315(e), the rules were not updated. Therefore, the changes that we are proposing today would conform our rules to the statutory requirements. Specifically, section 315(e)(1) codifies the requirement that information regarding any request to purchase advertising time that “is made on behalf of a legally qualified candidate for public office,” also known as candidate ads, be placed in the political file. It also specifies that the political recordkeeping obligations include any request for the purchase of advertising time that “communicates a message relating to any political matter of national importance,” also known as issue ads. Section 315(e)(2) identifies the specific records that must be placed in political files for both candidate ads and issue ads that communicate a message relating to a political matter of national importance. These records include:

(1) whether the request to purchase broadcast time is accepted or rejected by the licensee;
(2) the rate charged for the broadcast time;
(3) the date and time on which the communication is aired;
(4) the class of time that is purchased;
(5) the name of the candidate to which the communication refers and the office to which the candidate is seeking election, the election to which the communication refers, or the issue to which the communication refers (as applicable); (6) in the case of a request made by, or on behalf of, a candidate, the name of the candidate, the authorized committee of the candidate, and the treasurer of such committee; and (7) in the case of any other request, the name of the person purchasing the time, the name, address, and phone number of a contact person for such person, and a list of the chief executive officers or members of the executive committee or of the board of directors of such person.\footnote{Id. § 315(e)(2).}

16. The Commission’s political file rules for broadcast licensees, cable television system operators, DBS providers, and SDARS licensees currently require these entities to maintain for public inspection only those records that relate to requests for time by or on behalf of candidates for public office.\footnote{47 CFR §§ 25.701(d), 25.702(b), 73.1943, 76.1701.} These rules make no mention of the obligation specified in section 315(e)(1)(B) of the Act to also maintain records of requests for time about issue ads that communicate a message relating to any political matter of national importance. Our rules therefore do not fully reflect all of the statutory requirements. We propose to revise the political file rules for these entities to conform with the language in sections 315(e)(1) and (e)(2) of the Act. Specifically, we propose to revise these rules to require these entities to maintain in their online political inspection files not only records of each request for advertising time that is made by or on behalf of a legally qualified candidate for public office, but also for each request for advertising time that “communicates a message relating to any political matter of national importance.”\footnote{47 U.S.C. § 315(e)(1)(B).} In addition, we propose to revise our rules to list the specific records that must be maintained in online political files for both candidate ads and issue ads, consistent with list enumerated in section 315(e)(2). These proposed revisions would implement Congress’s directive in the BCRA and ensure our political recordkeeping rules reflect statutory requirements. We seek comment on this proposal.\footnote{57 We note that section 315(e)(3) of the Act provides that “[t]he information required by [section 315(e)] shall be placed in a political file as soon as possible and shall be retained by the licensee for a period of not less than 2 years.” 47 U.S.C. § 315(e)(3). Our existing political file rules already include this requirement. 47 CFR §§ 25.701(d)(2), 25.702(b)(2), 73.1943(c), 76.1701(c). Therefore, we need not propose changes to these rules to implement section 315(a)(3).}

C. Cost-Benefit Analysis

17. Finally, we seek comment on the benefits and costs associated with adopting the proposed changes. In addition to any benefits to the public at large, are there also benefits to industry through clarification of the obligations on licensees and regulatees? We also seek comment on any potential costs that would be imposed on licensees and regulatees if we adopt the proposals contained in this NPRM. In this regard, we note that the proposed changes would largely conform our rules to the requirements of the statute. Comments should be accompanied by specific data and analysis supporting claimed costs and benefits.

IV. PROCEDURAL MATTERS

18. Ex Parte Rules - Permit-But-Disclose. The proceeding this Notice initiates shall be treated as a “permit-but-disclose” proceeding in accordance with the Commission’s ex parte rules.\footnote{47 CFR §§ 1.1200 et seq.} Persons making ex parte presentations must file a copy of any written presentation or a memorandum summarizing any oral presentation within two business days after the presentation (unless a different deadline applicable to the Sunshine period applies). Persons making oral ex parte presentations are reminded that memoranda summarizing the presentation must (1) list all persons attending or otherwise participating in the meeting at which the ex parte presentation was made, and (2) summarize all data presented and arguments made during the presentation. If the presentation consisted in whole or in part of the presentation of data or arguments already reflected in the presenter’s written comments, memoranda, or other filings in the proceeding, the presenter may provide citations to such data or arguments in his or her prior comments, memoranda, or other filings (specifying the relevant page and/or paragraph numbers where such data or arguments can be found) in lieu of summarizing them in the memorandum.

Documents shown or given to Commission staff during ex parte meetings are deemed to be written ex parte presentations and must be filed consistent with rule 1.1206(b). In proceedings governed by rule 1.49(f) or for which the Commission has made available a method of electronic filing, written ex parte presentations and memoranda summarizing oral ex parte presentations, and all attachments thereto, must be filed through the electronic comment filing system available for that proceeding, and must be filed in their native format (e.g., .doc, .xml, .ppt, searchable .pdf). Participants in this proceeding should familiarize themselves with the Commission’s ex parte rules.

- Effective March 19, 2020, and until further notice, the Commission no longer accepts any hand or messenger delivered filings. This is a temporary measure taken to help protect the health and safety of individuals, and to mitigate the transmission of COVID-19.59

- During the time the Commission’s building is closed to the general public and until further notice, if more than one docket or rulemaking number appears in the caption of a proceeding, paper filers need not submit two additional copies for each additional docket or rulemaking number; an original and one copy are sufficient.

20. Initial Regulatory Flexibility Act Analysis. The Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980, as amended (RFA), requires that a regulatory flexibility analysis be prepared for notice and comment rulemaking proceedings, unless the agency certifies that “the rule will not, if promulgated, have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.”60 The RFA generally defines the term “small entity” as having the same meaning as the terms “small business,” “small organization,” and “small governmental jurisdiction.” In addition, the term “small business” has the same meaning as the term “small business concern” under the Small Business Act. A “small business concern” is one which: (1) is independently owned and operated; (2) is not dominant in its field of operation; and (3) satisfies any additional criteria established by the Small Business Administration (SBA).

21. With respect to this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, an Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (IRFA) under the RFA is contained in Appendix B. Written public comments are requested on the IFRA and must be filed in accordance with the same filing deadlines as comments on this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, with a distinct heading designating them as responses to the IRFA. In addition, a copy of this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking and the IRFA will be sent to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the SBA and will be published in the Federal Register.

22. Paperwork Reduction Act. This document proposes new or modified information collection requirements. The Commission, as part of its continuing effort to reduce paperwork burdens and pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, Public Law 104-13, invites the general public and the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to comment on these information collection requirements. In addition, pursuant to the Small Business Paperwork Relief Act of 2002, Public Law 107-198, see 44 U.S.C. § 3506(c)(4), we seek specific comment on how we might further reduce the information collection burden for small business concerns with fewer than 25 employees.

23. People with Disabilities. To request materials in accessible formats for people with disabilities (braille, large print, electronic files, audio format), send an e-mail to fcc504@fcc.gov or call the Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau at (202) 418-0530.

24. Additional Information. For additional information on this proceeding, please contact the Media Bureau’s Political Programming staff: Robert Baker, at (202) 418-1417 or Robert.Baker@fcc.gov; Gary Schonman, at (202) 418-1795 or Gary.Schonman@fcc.gov; or Sima Nilsson at (202) 418-2708 or Sima.Nilsson@fcc.gov.

V. ORDERING CLAUSES

25. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED that, pursuant to the authority contained in sections 1, 4(i), 4(j), 303, 307, 312, 315, 335, and 403 of the Communications Act, 47 U.S.C §§ 151, 154(i), 154(j), 303, 307, 312, 315, 335, and 403, this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking IS ADOPTED.

26. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Commission’s Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau, Reference Information Center, SHALL SEND a copy of this Notice, including the Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis, to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration.

APPENDIX B

Initial Regulatory Flexibility Act Analysis

1. As required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980, as amended (RFA), the Commission has prepared this Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (IRFA) of the possible significant economic impact on small entities of the policies and rules proposed in this NPRM. The Commission requests written public comments on this IRFA. Comments must be identified as responses to the IRFA and must be filed by the deadlines for comments specified in the NPRM. The Commission will send a copy of the NPRM, including this IRFA, to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration (SBA). In addition, the NPRM and IRFA (or summaries thereof) will be published in the Federal Register.

A. Need for, and Objectives of, the Proposed Rules

2. While the agency has strived to update its guidance to reflect changes in law and campaign practices, it has not undertaken a formal review to update the political programming and recordkeeping rules since 1991. Given the substantial growth of political media messaging in recent years, the updates proposed in this item are intended to conform our rules with statutory amendments, reflect existing practices and guidance, and account for modern campaign practices.

3. Sections 312(a)(7) and 315 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (Act), set forth the political programming obligations of broadcast licensees and other Commission regulatees.

3 Id.

6 The Commission has a longstanding practice of providing informal guidance to broadcasters and other regulatees regarding their political programming and related recordkeeping obligations and working with industry representatives to foster compliance.

7 47 U.S.C. §§ 312(a)(7), 315. The Commission has concluded that section 312(a)(7) does not apply to cable operators. 1991 Political Programming Order, 7 FCC Rcd at 679, para. 4. Section 315(c) of the Act defines the term “broadcasting station” as including cable television systems and the terms “licensee” and “station licensee” as including cable operators. 47 U.S.C. § 315(c) (“For purposes of this section— (1) the term ‘broadcasting station’ includes a community antenna television system; and (2) the terms ‘licensee’ and ‘station licensee’ when used with respect to a community antenna television system mean the operator of such system.”). Thus, the requirements of section 315 apply to cable operators as well as broadcast licensees. In 1997, the Commission extended the political programming provisions in sections 312(a)(7) and 315 of the Act to SDARS licensees. Establishment of Rules and Policies for the Digital Audio Radio Satellite Service in the 2310-2360 MHz Frequency Band, IB Docket No. 90-357, Report and Order Memorandum Opinion and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 12 FCC Rcd 5754, 5792, para. 92 (1997); 47 CFR § 25.702(a)-(b). In 1998, in accordance with section 335 of the Act, 47 U.S.C. § 335, the Commission established rules applying the political programming rules in sections 312(a)(7) and 315 of the Act to DBS service providers. Implementation of Section 25 of the Cable
Section 312(a)(7) requires broadcast licensees to give legally qualified candidates for federal office “reasonable access” to their facilities, or to permit them to purchase “reasonable amounts of time.” 8 Under section 315(a), if a broadcast licensee, cable operator, or other regulatee permits one legally qualified candidate for a public office to use its station, it must afford all other candidates for that office an “equal opportunity” to use the station. 9 Section 315(b) provides that, during certain periods before an election, legally qualified candidates are entitled to “the lowest unit charge of the station or cable system for the same class and amount of time for the same period.” 10 The entitlements embodied in sections 312(a)(7) and 315 of the Act are available only to persons who have achieved the status of “legally qualified candidate.” 11

4. Section 73.1940 of the Commission’s rules defines who is a “legally qualified candidate for public office.” 12 Generally, an individual seeking election (other than for President or Vice President) must publicly announce his or her intention to run for office, must be qualified to hold the office for which he or she is a candidate, and must have qualified for a place on the ballot or have publicly committed himself or herself to seeking election by the write-in method. If seeking election by the write-in method, the individual, in addition to being eligible under applicable law to be a write-in candidate, must make a “substantial showing” that he or she is a bona fide candidate for the office being sought. Section 73.1940(f) of the Commission’s rules specifies the requirements to demonstrate a “substantial showing” of a bona fide candidacy:

The term “substantial showing” of a bona fide candidacy... means evidence that the person claiming to be a candidate has engaged to a substantial degree in activities commonly associated with political campaigning. Such activities normally would include making campaign speeches, distributing campaign literature, issuing press releases, maintaining a campaign committee, and establishing campaign headquarters (even though the headquarters in some instances might be the residence of the candidate or his or her campaign manager). Not all of the listed activities are necessarily required in each case to demonstrate a substantial showing, and there may be activities not listed herein which would contribute to such a showing.

5. The political recordkeeping requirements serve to reinforce the statutory protections for political programming. The Commission first adopted rules requiring broadcast stations to maintain public inspection files documenting requests for political advertising time more than 80 years ago. It is crucial that stations maintain political files that are complete and up to date because the information in them directly affects, among other things, the statutory rights of opposing candidates to request equal opportunities under section 315(a) of the Act and present their positions to the public prior to an election. Additionally, these files enable the public to verify that licensees have complied with their obligations relating to use of their facilities by candidates for political office and to obtain information about entities sponsoring candidate and issue advertisements. The Commission also has applied...
political file rules to cable television system operators, DBS providers, and SDARS licensees, finding that the rationale for imposing such requirements on broadcasters similarly applies to these entities.

6. In 2002, Congress enacted the Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act (BCRA), which amended section 315 of the Act. The BCRA added new section 315(e) to codify the Commission’s existing political file obligations by requiring that information regarding any request to purchase advertising time that “is made on behalf of a legally qualified candidate for public office” be placed in the political file. In addition, the BCRA expanded the political file requirements to include any request to purchase political advertising time that “communicates a message relating to any political matter of national importance.” Specifically, section 315(e)(1) of the Act provides that:

A licensee shall maintain, and make available for public inspection, a complete record of a request to purchase broadcast time that –

(A) is made by or on behalf of a legally qualified candidate for public office; or
(B) communicates a message relating to any political matter of national importance, including –
(i) a legally qualified candidate;
(ii) any election to Federal office; or
(iii) a national legislative issue of public importance.

The BCRA also specified the records that must be maintained in political files. Specifically, section 315(e)(2) requires licensees to place in their political files the following information:

(A) whether the request to purchase broadcast time is accepted or rejected by the licensee;
(B) the rate charged for the broadcast time;
(C) the date and time on which the communication is aired;
(D) the class of time that is purchased;
(E) the name of the candidate to which the communication refers and the office to which the candidate is seeking election, the election to which the communication refers, or the issue to which the communication refers (as applicable);

21 Amendment of Part 76 of the Commission’s Rules and Regulations Relative to Obligations of Cable Television Systems to Maintain Public Inspection Files and Permit System Inspections, Docket No. 19948, Report and Order, 48 FCC 2d 72, para. 1 (1974); 47 CFR § 76.1701.
22 Section 335 of the Act imposes public interest obligations on DBS providers and requires the Commission, at a minimum, to apply the access to broadcast time requirement of section 312(a)(7) and the use of facilities requirements of section 315 to DBS providers. 47 U.S.C. § 335(a). The Commission adopted rules requiring DBS providers to abide by political file obligations similar to those requirements placed on terrestrial broadcasters and cable systems in order to assist in evaluations of compliance with the political programming rules and to enable competing candidates to review other candidates’ advertising access and rates. DBS Public Interest Obligations Report and Order, 13 FCC Red at 23271, para. 41; DBS Public Interest Obligations Sua Sponte Reconsideration, 19 FCC Red at 5561, para. 35; 47 CFR § 25.701(d).
26 Id.
27 Id. § 315(e)(1).
(F) in the case of a request made by, or on behalf of, a candidate, the name of the candidate, the authorized committee of the candidate, and the treasurer of such committee; and
(G) in the case of any other request, the name of the person purchasing the time, the name, address, and phone number of a contact person for such person, and a list of the chief executive officers or members of the executive committee or of the board of directors of such person.28

Section 315(e)(3) of the Act provides that “[t]he information required by [section 315(e)] shall be placed in a political file as soon as possible and shall be retained by the licensee for a period of not less than 2 years.”29

7. The NPRM proposes to revise the definition of “legally qualified candidate for public office” to add the use of social media and creation of a campaign website to the existing list of activities that may be considered in determining whether an individual running as a write-in candidate has made a “substantial showing” of his or her bona fide candidacy.30 The NPRM also proposes to revise the Commission’s political file rules to conform with BCRA’s amendment to Section 315(e) of the Act, which included within the political file requirements any request for the purchase of advertising time that “communicates a message relating to any political matter of national importance” (i.e., issue ads) and specify the records that must be maintained.31 Additionally, the proposed revisions would specify the records that must be maintained in political files.

B. Legal Basis

8. The proposed action is authorized under Sections §§ 151, 154(i), 154(j), 303(r), 307, 312, 315, 335, and 403 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 151, 154(i), 154(j), 303(r), 307, 312, 315, 335, and 403.

C. Description and Estimate of the Number of Small Entities to Which the Proposed Rules Will Apply

9. The RFA directs agencies to provide a description of, and where feasible, an estimate of the number of small entities that may be affected by the proposed rule revisions, if adopted.32 The RFA generally defines the term “small entity” as having the same meaning as the terms “small business,” “small organization,” and “small governmental jurisdiction.”33 In addition, the term “small business” has the same meaning as the term “small business concern” under the Small Business Act (SBA).34 A small business concern is one which: (1) is independently owned and operated; (2) is not dominant in its field of operation; and (3) satisfies any additional criteria established by the SBA.\textsuperscript{35} Below, we provide a description of such small entities, as well as an estimate of the number of such small entities, where feasible.

10. Television Broadcasting. This U.S. Economic Census category “comprises establishments primarily engaged in broadcasting images together with sound.”\textsuperscript{36} These establishments operate television broadcast studios and facilities for the programming and transmission of programs to the public.\textsuperscript{37} These establishments also produce or transmit visual programming to affiliated broadcast television stations, which in turn broadcast the programs to the public on a predetermined schedule. Programming may originate in their own studio, from an affiliated network, or from external sources. The SBA has created the following small business size standard for such businesses: those having $41.5 million or less in annual receipts.\textsuperscript{38} According to the 2012 Economic Census (when the SBA’s size standard was set at $38.5 million or less in annual receipts), 751 firms in the small business size category operated in that year. Of that number, 656 had annual receipts of $25 million or less, 25 had annual receipts between $25 million and $49,999,999 and 70 had annual receipts of $50 million or more.\textsuperscript{39} Based on this data, we estimate that the majority of commercial television broadcast stations are small entities under the applicable size standard.

11. Additionally, the Commission has estimated the number of licensed commercial television stations to be 1,374.\textsuperscript{40} Of this total, 1,263 stations (or 92\%) had revenues of $41.5 million or less in 2019, according to Commission staff review of the BIA Kelsey Inc. Media Access Pro Television Database (BIA) on July 30, 2020, and therefore these stations qualify as small entities under the SBA definition. In addition, the Commission estimates the number of noncommercial educational television stations to be 384.\textsuperscript{41} The Commission does not compile and does not have access to information on the revenue of NCE stations that would permit it to determine how many such stations would qualify as small entities. There are also 386 Class A stations.\textsuperscript{42} Given the nature of this service, the Commission presumes that all of these stations qualify as small entities under the applicable SBA size standard.

12. Radio Broadcasting. This U.S. Economic Census category “comprises establishments primarily engaged in broadcasting aural programs by radio to the public.”\textsuperscript{43} Programming may originate in the establishment’s own studio, from an affiliated network, or from external sources. The SBA has created the following small business size standard for such businesses: those having $41.5 million or less in annual receipts. According to Economic Census data for 2012 (when the SBA’s size standard was set at $38.5 million or less in annual receipts), 2,849 firms in this category operated in that year. Of that number, 2,806 operated with annual receipts of less than $25 million per year, 17 with annual receipts between $25 million and $49,999,999 million and 26 with annual receipts of $50 million or more. Based on this data, we estimate that the majority of commercial radio broadcast stations were small under the applicable SBA size standard.

13. The Commission has estimated the number of licensed commercial AM radio stations to be 4,546 and the number of commercial FM radio stations to be 6,682 for a total of 11,228 commercial stations. Of this total, 11,266 stations (or 99%) had revenues of $41.5 million or less in 2019, according to Commission staff review of the BIA Kelsey Inc. Media Access Pro Television Database (BIA) on July 30, 2020, and therefore these stations qualify as small entities under the SBA definition. In addition, there were 4,213 noncommercial, educational (NCE) FM stations. The Commission does not compile and does not have access to information on the revenue of NCE stations that would permit it to determine how many such stations would qualify as small entities.

14. We note, however, that in assessing whether a business concern qualifies as “small” under the above definition, business (control) affiliations must be included. Our estimate, therefore, likely overstates the number of small entities that might be affected by our action, because the revenue figure on which it is based does not include or aggregate revenues from affiliated companies. In addition, another element of the definition of “small business” requires that an entity not be dominant in its field of operation. We are unable at this time to define or quantify the criteria that would establish whether a specific television broadcast station is dominant in its field of operation. Accordingly, the estimate of small businesses to which the rules may apply does not exclude any radio or television station from the definition of a small business on this basis and is therefore possibly over-inclusive. An additional element of the definition of “small business” is that the entity must be independently owned and operated. Because it is difficult to assess these criteria in the context of media entities, the estimate of small businesses to which the rules may apply does not exclude any radio or television station from the definition of a small business on this basis and similarly may be over-inclusive.

15. Cable Companies and Systems (Rate Regulation Standard) The Commission has also developed its own small business size standards for the purpose of cable rate regulation. Under the Commission’s rules, a “small cable company” is one serving 400,000 or fewer subscribers nationwide. Industry data indicates that, of the 777 cable companies currently operating in the United States, 766 serve 400,000 or fewer subscribers. Additionally, under the Commission’s rules, a “small system” is a cable system serving 15,000 or fewer subscribers.\textsuperscript{51} According to industry data, there are currently 4,336 active cable systems in the United States.\textsuperscript{52} Of this total, 3,650 cable systems have fewer than 15,000 subscribers.\textsuperscript{53} Thus, the Commission believes that the vast majority of cable companies and cable systems are small entities.

16. \textit{Cable System Operators (Telecom Act Standard).} The Communications Act of 1934, as amended, also contains a size standard for small cable system operators, which is “a cable operator that, directly or through an affiliate, serves in the aggregate fewer than one percent of all subscribers in the United States and is not affiliated with any entity or entities whose gross annual revenues in the aggregate exceed $250,000,000.”\textsuperscript{54} As of 2019, there were approximately 48,646,056 basic cable video subscribers in the United States.\textsuperscript{55} Accordingly, an operator serving fewer than 486,460 subscribers shall be deemed a small operator if its annual revenues, when combined with the total annual revenues of all its affiliates, do not exceed $250 million in the aggregate.\textsuperscript{56} Based on available data, we find that all but five cable operators are small entities under this size standard.\textsuperscript{57} We note that the Commission neither requests nor collects information on whether cable system operators are affiliated with entities whose gross annual revenues exceed $250 million.\textsuperscript{58} Therefore, we are unable at this time to estimate with greater precision the number of cable system operators that would qualify as small cable operators under the definition in the Communications Act.

17. \textit{Direct Broadcast Satellite (DBS) Service.} DBS service is a nationally distributed subscription service that delivers video and audio programming via satellite to a small parabolic dish antenna at the subscriber’s location. For the purposes of economic classification, establishments providing satellite television distribution services using facilities and infrastructure that they operate are included in the Wired Telecommunications Carriers industry.\textsuperscript{59} The Wired Telecommunications Carriers industry comprises establishments primarily engaged in operating and/or providing access to transmission facilities and infrastructure that they own and/or lease for the transmission of voice, data, text, sound, and video using wired telecommunications networks. Transmission facilities may be based on a single technology or combination of technologies. Establishments in this industry use the wired telecommunications network facilities that they operate to provide a variety of services, such as wired telephony services, including VoIP services, wired (cable) audio and video programming distribution; and wired broadband internet services.\textsuperscript{60} The SBA determines that a wireline business is small if it has fewer than 1,500 employees.\textsuperscript{61} Economic census data for 2012 indicate that 3,117 wireline companies were operational during that year. Of that number, 3,083 operated with fewer than 1,000 employees.\textsuperscript{62} Based on that data, we conclude that the majority of wireline firms are small under the applicable standard. However, currently only two entities provide DBS service, which requires a great deal of capital for operation: DIRECTV (owned by AT&T) and DISH Network.\textsuperscript{63} According to industry data, DIRECTV and DISH serve 14,831,379 and 8,957,469 subscribers respectively, and count the third and fourth most subscribers of any multichannel video distribution system in the U.S.\textsuperscript{64} Given the capital required to operate a DBS service, its national scope, and the approximately one-third share of the video market controlled by these two companies,\textsuperscript{65} we presume that neither would qualify as a small business.

18. Satellite Radio. The rules proposed in this NPRM would affect the sole, current U.S. provider of satellite radio (SDARS) services, Sirius-XM, which offers subscription services. Sirius-XM reported revenue of $5.78 billion and a net income of $1.1 billion in 2018.\textsuperscript{66} In light of these figures, we believe it is unlikely that this entity would be considered small.

D. Description of Projected Reporting, Recordkeeping, and Other Compliance Requirements

19. Reporting Requirements. The NPRM does not propose any new or modified reporting requirements.

20. Recordkeeping Requirements. The NPRM proposes to revise the political file rules, consistent with the BCRA’s amendment to section 315(e) of the Act, to reflect statutory requirements that broadcast licensees, cable television system operators, DBS providers, and SDARS licensees are obligated to maintain in their online political inspection files records of each request for advertising time that “is made on behalf of a legally qualified candidate for public office” and each request for advertising time that “communicates a message relating to any political matter of national importance” (i.e., issue ads). In addition, the NPRM proposes to list the specific records that must be maintained in political files.

21. Other Compliance Requirements. The NPRM proposes to revise the political programming rules to add the use of social media to the list of activities that a broadcast licensee or cable operator may consider in determining whether an individual who is running as a write-in candidate has made a “substantial showing” of his or her candidacy.

E. Steps Taken to Minimize Significant Economic Impact on Small Entities, and Significant Alternatives Considered

22. The RFA requires an agency to describe any significant alternatives that it has considered in reaching its proposed approach, which may include the following four alternatives (among others): (1)

\textsuperscript{61} 13 CFR § 121.201 (NAICS Code 517311).

\textsuperscript{66} See https://s1.q4cdn.com/750174072/files/doc_financials/2019/ar/2fb89e07-9f09-4e20-be79-9e194d70cd5e.pdf.
the establishment of differing compliance or reporting requirements or timetables that take into account the resources available to small entities; (2) the clarification, consolidation, or simplification of compliance or reporting requirements under the rule for small entities; (3) the use of performance, rather than design, standards; and (4) an exemption from coverage of the rule, or any part thereof, for small entities.67

23. The proposed revisions to the political file rules to implement the BCRA would largely codify existing Commission policy and guidance. Thus, we expect that these revisions, if adopted, would not impose significant new recordkeeping burdens on small entities. We also seek comment on possible modifications to the proposed revisions to the political file rules to lessen any burdens on small entities.

24. In addition, we anticipate that the proposal to add the use of social media to the list of activities that may be considered in determining whether an individual who is running as a write-in candidate has made a “substantial showing” of his or her candidacy would only benefit small entities by providing additional guidance on how to make such determinations.
