of the Commission's Rules)

ORDER

Adopted: July 6, 2016

Released: July 7, 2016

By the Commission:

1. By this Order, the Commission makes rule changes to Part 1 of the Commission's rules, and amends its Schedule of Application Fees, 47 C.F.R. § 1.1102 et seq., as listed in the Appendix, to adjust its fees for processing applications and other filings. Section 8(a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended ("the Act"), requires the Commission to "assess and collect application fees at such rates as the Commission shall establish or at such modified rates as it shall establish pursuant to" Section 8(b).¹ Section 8(g) contains the Schedule of Charges for a broad range of application categories as well as procedures for modifying and collecting these charges. Section 8(b)(1) requires that the Schedule of Application Fees "be reviewed by the Commission every two years after October 1, 1991, and adjusted by the Commission to reflect changes in the Consumer Price Index." As required by Section 8(b)(1), this Order increases application fees to reflect the net change in the Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers ("CPI-U") of 1.8 percent, an increase of 4.292 index points calculated from October 2013 (233.546) to October 2015 (237.838).² The adjustments comply with the statutory formula set forth in Section 8(b).

2. The methodology and timing of adjustments to application fees are prescribed by statute at 47 U.S.C. § 158(b). Because our action implementing the statute leaves us no discretion, prior notice and comment is unnecessary pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 553(b)(3)(B). This Order is also exempt from the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. § 601 et seq., pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 601(2). Copies of this Order will be sent to Congress and the Comptroller General in compliance with the Congressional Review Act, 5 U.S.C. § 801 et seq. Notification of the fee adjustments made in this Order will be published in the Federal Register.

² Application fees are calculated based upon the process set forth in 47 USC § 158 (b)(1). The increase in the CPI-U between October 2013 (the month used to calculate the last CPI-U adjustment of the Schedule of Application Fees) and October 2015 is 4.292 index points, a 1.8 percent increase. Section 8(b)(1) prescribes that increases or decreases in application fees are to be "determined by the net change in the Consumer Price Index since the date of enactment of this section," i.e., since December 1989. The actual calculation of fees is based on index points that are averaged over a time period beginning in December 1989. See Bureau of Labor Statistics CPI-U Index, <http://www.bls.gov/cpi/cpid1511.pdf> (showing a CPI-U Index of 233.546 for October 2013 and 237.838 for October 2015).

ORDERING CLAUSES

3. Accordingly, IT IS ORDERED, that, pursuant to §§ 1, 4(i), 4(j), and 8 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 151, 154(i), 154(j), and 158, the rule changes specified herein ARE ADOPTED and the Schedule of Application Fees, 47 C.F.R. § 1.1102 et seq., IS AMENDED as set forth in the attached Appendix.

4. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the rule changes and amendment to the Schedule of Application Fees made herein shall become effective 30 days after publication in the Federal Register.

Statement of Commissioner Michael O’Rielly
Approving in part, Dissenting in part

Re: Amendment of the Schedule of Application Fees Set Forth In Sections 1.1102 through 1.1109 of the Commission’s Rules GEN No. 86-285

I do not have an objection to this item per se, especially since I voted for a near identical one in 2014. In essence, it serves to execute a specific requirement mandated by law. As such, the Commission has little discretion to do otherwise and I have no substantive disagreements with the item’s short content. I do object and dissent on the Commission’s procedural gamesmanship to implement this requirement. Specifically, the authority cited within the item far exceeds the bounds of rationality, necessity or good government.

To be clear, there is little dispute, and the item makes clear, that Section 8 of the Communications Act is the operative statutory authority requiring this action. In fact, Section 8 establishes the overall requirement to assess fees, mandates Commission review on a biennial basis, outlines the schedule of charges for the application categories, and requires fee adjustment to reflect economic inflation. Paragraph 2 of the item states “application fees are prescribed by statute at 47 U.S.C. 158(b). . . implementing the statute leaves us no discretion, prior notice and comment is unnecessary. . .” If the item ended here, I would be in a fine place.

Unfortunately, the Commission’s Office of General Counsel (OGC) has interceded to cite unrelated sections (1, 4(i), and 4(j)) as providing authority to issue the item. This can’t be to protect its legal footing to make changes to the application fees, because Section 8 specifically prohibits any judicial review for increases or decreases made pursuant to subsection (b). Instead, this repeated practice should be seen for what it is: offensive to those lawmakers who write our governing statute. In particular, section 8 is so clear that citing any additional “authority” seems to indicate a belief that Congress doesn’t know the difference between issuing direct requirements to the Commission, appropriately delegating authority as it sees fit, and expressing policy positions without requisite authority. That is untrue. In this universe, some must believe that only OGC can save Congress from itself and court review, through the addition of make-believe authorizing provisions. Phooey. If Congress provides direct requirements pursuant to a particular provision, as the item acknowledges, that should be sufficient to complete the task at hand.

It is also clear that the Commission’s reliance on these unrelated provisions as either direct or ancillary authority to issue this item is absurd. I disagree with current interpretations of these sections, even if approved by a lower court. For Section 4(j), the only possibly relevant sentence is the first, “The Commission may conduct its proceedings in such manner as will best conduce to the proper dispatch of business and to the ends of justice.” Similarly, Section 4(i), which I have previously raised, states “The Commission may perform any and all acts, make such rules and regulations, and issue such orders, not inconsistent with this Act, as may be necessary in the execution of its functions.” Then the item cites the profoundly misinterpreted Section 1, which reads in part, “there is hereby created a commission to be known as the ‘Federal Communications Commission,’ which shall be constituted as hereinafter provided, and which shall execute and enforce the provisions of this Act.” These provisions hardly induce anyone to think the Congress bestowed the Commission with direct authority to issue the requisite provisions to implement application fees.

In addition, the fact that some court may have previously ruled that these provisions provide ancillary authority does not erase the fact that explicit, direct authority was provided in this instance, thereby eliminating the need for any ancillary authority here. Moreover, ancillary authority, to the extent it exists, still requires the identification of direct authority, which exists in the form of Section 8. This roundabout exercise helps prove its absurdity: OGC feels the need to cite imaginary ancillary authority to bolster the primary authority which must exist to provide a hint of rationalization for ancillary authority.

It's belts and suspenders on a baby onesie.

Given the Commission's overreliance on this practice, it becomes tedious to raise it for each and every instance. Instead, I will continue to raise it periodically, especially in the most obvious of abuses.

Accordingly, I dissent on this misuse of OGC's role and function, while approving the rest of the item.
